Map 2.3 Some of the global imbalances that drive migration movements are reflected in the Human Development Index

Source: Heat map based on 2021 data, Human Development Insights (table), United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), New York, https://hdr.undp.org/data-center/country-insights#/ranks.

Note: According to UNDP, the Human Development Index is "a summary measure of average achievement in key dimensions of human development: a long and healthy life, being knowledgeable and having a decent standard of living." It ranges between 0 and 1. The categories in the map are defined as follows: low (below 0.55), medium (0.55–0.70), high (0.70–0.80), very high (0.80–0.90), and highest (above 0.90).
