EMERGING MARKETS
GROWTH FUND<sup>SM</sup>

SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT

For the Six Months Ended December 31, 1995

SEEKS LONG-TERM GROWTH OF CAPITAL BY INVESTING IN COMPANIES

OPERATING IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES AROUND THE WORLD

FELLOW SHAREHOLDERS:

The first half of fiscal 1996 saw continued volatility in Emerging Markets Growth Fund's investment universe. Equity prices generally were rising as the period began. They began retreating again in August, and in December they turned around once more, staging a rally that continued after the close of the fiscal half-year.

In this environment, the fund held its ground quite well. For the six months ended December 31, the value of EMGF shares showed a very small decline of 0.8%, assuming reinvestment of an income dividend of 37 cents a share and a $1.27 capital gain distribution that were paid in December. This compares with a decline of 2.0% (including reinvestment) for the Morgan Stanley Capital International Emerging Markets Free (EMF) Index, which is unmanaged and tracks stock prices in 22 developing countries with markets open to foreign investors.

Even with these marginally negative results, Emerging Markets Growth Fund's long-term record remains impressive as the fund approaches its 10th anniversary. Since operations began in May 1986, EMGF has generated a total return of 908.3% and an average compound return of 27.3% a year.

In the July-December period, a majority of the 33 markets represented in the fund's portfolio fell in U.S. dollar terms. However, our three largest areas of concentration — Brazil, Mexico and Argentina — recorded gains in dollars as well as in local currency.

On December 31, the portfolio included investments in 328 companies. About one-third of the holdings held throughout the period rose in price for the six months; about two-thirds registered declines. Of the investments appearing on our Ten Largest list (page 6), eight went up, including our five biggest holdings which account for 14% of net assets. Our first and second largest are Brazilian utilities: Telecomunicações Brasileiras (Telebras) and Centrais Elétricas Brasileiras (Eletrobras). Both companies have shown increased profitability, largely as a result of higher tariffs. In our view, both should benefit if, as we expect, Brazil takes further steps toward privatization.

The setback that took place starting in August was concentrated in Latin America and brought to an end a rally that had been underway there since late March. The catalyst for the turnaround was a rather unusual development in Argentina. Highly publicized differences over policy arose between President Carlos Menem and his finance minister, Domingo Cavallo, the architect of that country's recovery plan. This was unsettling to some investors because Menem and Cavallo had been counted on to work together and continue steering Argentina toward a more capitalistic economy.

Indeed, quite a few investors began treating the Argentine situation as a proxy for Latin America as a whole. Their uneasiness about the region was reinforced by the increasing severity of the recession in Mexico and by a slowing of economic growth in Brazil in response to higher interest rates. Throughout the entire area, stock prices stayed on a downward path in September, October and part of November.

It would be a serious mistake to underestimate Latin America's current difficulties. We continue to believe, however, that many financially sound, well-managed companies in the region represent good long-term investments. Several of them have reorganized their operations and cut costs; and quite a few of them are becoming more international in nature and are deriving a greater share of their revenue from markets outside their home country.

During the July-December period, we made a number of modifications in the fund's portfolio.

We sold some of our Latin American holdings and added to quite a few others, including our investments in well-capitalized banks.

In India, our organization's expanding research effort has identified what we believe are well-managed companies that have demonstrated an ability to compete in a deregulated business environment. As a result, we increased our investments in that market. For the first time, an Indian stock, Mahanagar Telephone Nigam, appears on the Ten Largest list; the company supplies phone service to Bombay and New Delhi.

We also added to some of the fund's Malaysian investments. The main additions were in relatively small entrepreneurial companies. We remain less enthusiastic about most large-capitalization Malaysian stocks because of their high valuations.

In general, we have continued to be fairly aggressive investors. In the past half-year alone, we added more than 50 new securities, while deleting about a dozen. Because we have been able to find attractive investment opportunities in numerous markets, the portfolio is now more diversified than in prior years. Our two largest areas of concentration, Brazil and Mexico, account for about one-fourth of net assets. In the past, it was not unusual for the two largest markets to account for nearly half of net assets.

Emerging markets stocks as a group are now selling at lower valuations than equities in the industrialized world, despite growth prospects which, in our view, are much more favorable. This is a direct consequence of two consecutive years of declining prices. The lower valuations have created a favorable environment for us as we select stocks and continue to enlarge and diversify the portfolio.

Finally, we would like to remind shareholders that Emerging Markets Growth Fund adheres to a policy of controlled growth. It was closed to new sales through most of the past half-year. In January, a substantial amount of new money came into the fund, with more than half of that coming from existing shareholders.

On page 5, you will find a description of the fund and its adviser. We hope you find this information interesting and informative.

Sincerely,

Walter P. Stern
Chairman

ABOUT THE FUND AND ITS ADVISER:

Emerging Markets Growth Fund was organized in 1986 by the International Finance Corporation, an affiliate of the World Bank, as a vehicle for investing in the securities of companies domiciled in developing countries. It was based on the premise that rapid growth in those countries can create very attractive investment opportunities. It also was felt that the availability of equity capital would stimulate the development of capital markets and encourage countries to liberalize their investment regulations.

An affiliate of Capital International, Inc., the fund's investment adviser, was selected at the outset by the IFC to manage Emerging Markets Growth Fund from among a number of global investment management firms. The fund started with $50 million in assets, 13 institutional shareholders and a small portfolio of stocks representing four markets. Today it has over $5 billion in assets, more than 400 institutional and individual investors, and a portfolio of more than 300 securities representing companies based in over 30 countries. Since operations began on May 30, 1986, the value of the fund's shares has risen 908.3% with all distributions reinvested, or an average annual compound return of 27.3%.

Capital International, Inc. is one of The Capital Group Companies. These companies form one of the world's most experienced investment advisory organizations, with roots dating back to 1931. The organization has been involved in international investing since the 1950s.

The investment management affiliates of The Capital Group Companies employ a value-oriented and research-driven investment approach. They maintain a global investment intelligence network which employs more than 180 investment professionals based on three continents. They include analysts and portfolio counselors, born in more than two dozen countries, who speak a variety of languages. These professionals travel millions of miles each year, keeping a close watch on industry trends and government actions and scrutinizing thousands of companies, including well over a thousand visits to countries in the fund's investment universe. This research effort combines intensive company and industry analysis with a political and macroeconomic overview. We believe it has given our family of companies — and the funds they manage, including Emerging Markets Growth Fund — an important competitive edge.

1. Emerging Markets Growth Fund, Inc. (the "fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a closed-end, diversified management investment company. The following paragraphs summarize the significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements:

Equity-type securities traded on a national securities exchange (or reported on the NASDAQ national market) and securities traded in the over-the-counter market are stated at the last reported sales price on the day of valuation; other securities, and securities for which no sale was reported on that date, are stated at the last quoted bid price. In cases where securities are traded on more than one exchange, the securities are valued on the exchange designated by or under the authority of the Board of Directors as the primary market. Bonds and notes are valued at prices obtained from a bond-pricing service provided by a major dealer in bonds, when such prices are available; however, in circumstances where the investment adviser deems it appropriate to do so, such securities will be valued at the mean of their representative quoted bid and asked prices or, if such prices are not available, at prices for securities of comparable maturity, quality, and type. Short-term securities with original or remaining maturities in excess of 60 days, including forward currency contracts, are valued at the mean of their quoted bid and asked prices. Short-term securities with 60 days or less to maturity are amortized to maturity based on their cost to the fund if acquired within 60 days of maturity or, if already held by the fund on the 60th day, based on the value determined on the 61st day. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available (including restricted securities which are subject to limitations as to their sale), or which are not deemed to represent market value, are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by the Valuation Committee of the Board of Directors.

As is customary in the mutual fund industry, securities transactions are accounted for on the date the securities are purchased or sold. Realized gains and losses from securities transactions are reported on an identified cost basis. Dividend and interest income is reported on the accrual basis. Discounts on securities purchased are amortized over the life of the respective securities. The fund does not amortize premiums on securities purchased. Dividends and distributions paid to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Investment securities, cash balances, and other assets and liabilities, including forward currency contracts, denominated in non-U.S. currencies are recorded in the financial statements after translation into U.S. dollars utilizing rates of exchange on the last business day of the period. Purchases and sales of investment securities, dividend and interest income, and certain expenses are calculated at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. Gains and losses that arise from changes in exchange rates are not segregated from gains and losses that arise from changes in market prices of investments.

Unfunded capital commitments represent agreements which obligate the fund to meet capital calls in the future. Payment would be made when a capital call is requested. Capital calls can only be made if and when certain requirements have been fulfilled; thus, the timing of such capital calls cannot be readily determined. Unfunded capital commitments are recorded at the amount that would be paid when and if capital calls are made.

Pursuant to the custodian agreement, the fund receives credits against its custodian fee for imputed interest on certain balances with the custodian bank. The custodian fee of $4,273,000 includes $119,000 that was paid by these credits rather than in cash.

2. Investing in securities of issuers in a variety of developing countries involves certain special investment risks, which may include investment and repatriation restrictions, currency volatility, government involvement in the private sector, limited investor information, shallow securities markets, certain local tax law considerations, and limited regulation of the securities markets.

Dividend income, and interest income, net realized gain and net unrealized gain, of the fund derived in Chile are subject to certain non-U.S. taxes at rates of 20% and 35%, respectively. Net realized gain and net unrealized gain of the fund derived in India are subject to certain non-U.S. taxes at a rate of 10%. The fund provides for such non-U.S. taxes on investment income, net realized gain, and net unrealized gain.

3. It is the fund's policy to continue to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its net taxable income, including any net realized gain on investments, to its shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required.

As of December 31, 1995, net unrealized appreciation on investments, excluding forward currency contracts, for federal income tax purposes aggregated $719,831,000, net of accumulated deferred taxes totaling $2,162,000 on net unrealized appreciation of Chilean and Indian securities, of which $1,295,909,000 related to appreciated securities and $576,078,000 related to depreciated securities. There was no difference between book and tax realized gains on securities transactions for the six months ended December 31, 1995. The cost of portfolio securities, excluding forward currency contracts, for federal income tax purposes was $5,135,657,000 at December 31, 1995.

4. The fee of $19,736,000 for management services was paid pursuant to an agreement with Capital International, Inc. (CII), with which certain officers and Directors of the fund are affiliated. The Investment Advisory and Service Agreement provides for monthly fees, accrued weekly, based on an annual rate of 0.90% of the first $400 million of the fund's net assets; 0.80% of such assets in excess of $400 million but not exceeding $1 billion; 0.70% of such assets in excess of $1 billion but not exceeding $2 billion; 0.65% of such assets in excess of $2 billion but not exceeding $4 billion; 0.625% of such assets in excess of $4 billion but not exceeding $6 billion; 0.60% of such assets in excess of $6 billion but not exceeding $8 billion; 0.58% of such assets in excess of $8 billion but not exceeding $11 billion; and 0.56% of such assets in excess of $11 billion. CII is owned by Capital Group International, Inc., which is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Capital Group Companies, Inc.

5. As of December 31, 1995, accumulated excess distributions of net realized gains were $6,232,000 and additional paid-in capital was $5,043,938,000. The fund made purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, of $1,402,969,000 and $481,745,000, respectively, during the six months ended December 31, 1995.

Dividend and interest income is recorded net of non-U.S. taxes paid. For the six months ended December 31, 1995, such non-U.S. taxes were $4,279,000. Net realized currency losses on dividends, interest, withholding taxes reclaimable, and sales of non-U.S. bonds were $691,000 for the six months ended December 31, 1995.

The fund may enter into forward currency contracts, which represent an agreement to exchange currencies of different countries at a specified future date at a specified rate. The fund purchased forward currency contracts to hedge the foreign exchange exposure in the Polish Government Treasury Bills held by the fund. The Polish Government has pegged the Zloty to a basket of currencies, and the forward currency contracts protect the fund against movements in these currencies against the U.S. dollar. The fund's use of forward currency contracts involves market risk in excess of the amount recognized in the statement of assets and liabilities. The contracts are recorded in the statement of assets and liabilities at their net unrealized value. The face or contract amount in U.S. dollars reflects the total exposure the fund has in that particular contract. Losses may arise upon entering these contracts from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts and from possible movements in non-U.S. exchange rates and securities values underlying these instruments. At December 31,
