President G. D. Woods Chronfiles Val. 13 Oct-Dec. 1965

DECLASSIFIED WITH RESTRICTION® WBG Archives

December 30, 1965 (Paris)

My dear Mr. Minister:

I want to thank you very much for your letter of November 23, 1965 with its enclosure. setting forth the Government's position with respect to the pending foreign claims against Brazil,

I am grateful for your assurances that it is the desire of the Brazilian Government to expedite the settlement of those claims open to administrative solution and that the claimants have full access to the courts of Brazil. From your letter, it appears that progress is being made in several of the claims and I would appreciate being kept informed of further progress towards settlement, particularly in the two cases, Ceara Tranuay Light & Power and Port of Para Company, on which commissions are scheduled to report during this month.

I understand that those claims which are being litigated in the courts are not within the sphere of competence of the Executive Branch, and I am grateful for your assurance that legal remedies exist against undue delays in these cases. Nevertheless, some of these cases appear to have been pending for a very long time and for that reason, wherever the fault for the delay may lie, the history of these cases may have created the unfortunate impression in some quarters abroad that recourse to Brazilian courts may not offer a practicable means of relief in cases of this sort. Consequently, I would hope that both your Covernment and the claimants would take every practicable means to speed the resolution of these cases. We intend so to advise the Executive Directors of the Bank representing the countries of the claimants.

I am grateful for the time and attention you have given to these matters, but I believe it was time well spent, for the resolution of these relatively few remaining claims will support the other measures the Government is taking to strengthen Brazil's credit abroad.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) George D. Woods George D. Woods

Dear Mr. Gross:

Your cable to Mr. George D. Woods, President of the World Bank, dated December 29, 1965, was duly received today. Mr. Woods is at present out of the United States on an overseas visit and will not be returning to his office in Washington until mid-January.

I know that Mr. Woods will want to reply personally to your cable and, accordingly, I am holding it for his attention on his return. This note is to explain why you will not be hearing from him immediately.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Geddes:

Your letter of December 28, 1965, addressed to Mr. George D. Woods, President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, inviting Mr. Woods to a cocktail party at the Racquet & Tennis Club on January 19, 1966, has been duly received. Mr. Woods is out of the country at the moment on an overseas visit until January 10. On his return, I shall see that your letter is brought to his attention.

I think I should tell you, however, that I note from his calendar that Mr. Woods has an engagement in Washington for the evening of Wednesday, January 19, which will probably preclude his accepting your kind invitation.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Delafield:

I refer to your letter of December 21, 1965, to Mr. George D. Woods, President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and to my subsequent telephone conversation with you in which I informed you that Mr. Woods is at present absent from Washington on an overseas visit. I have informed various officers of the World Bank Group of your interest in having a talk regarding world food supplies, and I suggest that, when you plan to visit Washington, you should see the following:

Mr. Martin M. Rosen, Executive Vice President of the International Finance Corporation. As I explained to you, the International Finance Corporation is the private enterprise arm of the World Bank Group.

Mr. Rosen's telephone number is DUdley 1-2281.

Mr. S. Aldewereld, Vice President of the World Bank and Director of its Projects Department. Mr. Aldewereld will be in Washington through January 17, 1966, but leaves the following day for an overseas visit.

In addition to its other responsibilities, the Projects Department of the World Bank is responsible, as the name implies, for the technical appraisal and supervision of all agricultural projects considered and financed by the World Bank and the International Development Association.

Mr. Aldewereld's telephone number is DUdley 1-2663.

Both Mr. Rosen and Mr. Aldewereld will be pleased to meet with you and, after having ascertained your interest more exactly, to refer you to the appropriate members of their staffs. Perhaps you will get in direct touch with their offices to arrange mutually convenient dates and times for your visits.

Your letter will also be brought to Mr. Woods's attention, for his information, on his return to Washington in mid-January.

> Yours sincerely, G. C. Wilshart Personal Assistant to Mr. Woods

P.S. If it would be of assistance to you in order to save you calling two telephone numbers here, please call Mrs. Lee at DUdley 1-3585 who will be glad to try and fix appointments with both Mr. Rosen and Mr. Aldewereld.

Dear Mr. Mehta:

Your letter to Mr. George D. Woods, dated December 16, came in just as Mr. Woods was leaving to catch a plane to New York. Mr. Woods is going to Europe tomorrow and will be out of the United States until about January 10.

However, before leaving, Mr. Woods had time to read your letter and he asked me to acknowledge it, on his behalf, and to tell you how very sorry he was to hear of your eye trouble. He hopes very much that the further medical advice you are getting is helpful.

Mr. Woods also asked me to send you his warmest regards. May I add my own good wishes to you for this holiday season, and for the speedy clearing up of your eye trouble.

Dear Mr. Minister:

Thank you for your letter of December 21, extending a special invitation to me to be present at the inaugurations of President-Elect Ferdinand E. Marcos and Vice President-Elect Fernando H. Lopez in Manila on December 30, 1965. Regretfully, I shall be unable to accept this invitation due to a previous commitment.

I take this opportunity of extending to the new President and Vice President, through you, my best wishes on the occasion of their taking office. I trust that their Administration will be eminently successful and will mark further milestones towards the economic development of the Philippines.

Again, many thanks for this invitation and my best wishes to you for Christmas and the New Year.

Guinea - Highway Study

MAR 1 6 2012 WBG ARCHIVES

December 22, 1965

I had a general understanding with you that the Guinea grant for a highway study would be suspended in mid-air until your return, when in the light of the Economic Report and any intervening developments, we would discuss it.

There is the possibility that we may not have an opportunity to talk this out until the week of January 10. This memorandum is to request that no recommendation be transmitted to the Board and no papers be circulated, excepting on a confidential basis, among the staff with respect to any Guinean matter, including the proposed loan for a railway engineering project, until you and I have had a meeting of minds on the outstanding recommendation to the Directors for a grant in connection with the highway study.

If the recommendation respecting the grant is withdrawn, I am entirely agreeable to the presentation of a recommendation for a loan to finance the detailed engineering of the proposed railway--along the lines approved in the Loan Committee.

Dear L. K .:

I am glad to have your holiday greetings and delighted with the news that you will be here early in February--I expect we will be here. We both look forward to seeing you.

I am not sure about a thaw. After all, it's pretty cold here in the winter time--even under the best of circumstances.

On the other hand, the mishaps, both excusable and inexcusable, and the disappointments of the past few years in the fertilizer program and the other segments of the broad agricultural programs may turn out to be not entirely unmixed evils. The crash arrangements for food and fertilizers is certainly a crack in the ice. There is every reason to believe that Subramaniam's visit will enlarge the understanding on both sides, of each of the other's problems.

It is difficult to mount an all-out effort, on the economic side, to increase productivity in competition with a strong military program. I think the extent of the thaw may depend on how this question is handled.

I hope you will reserve some time for a physical examination while you are here.

Every good wish to you both, in which Louie joins.

Thank you for your note of December 16. At the moment, my plans for visiting the United Arab Republic are still a little indefinite and such a visit would be a very short one--one day in Cairo and a brief trip to the Aswan Dam. Accordingly, I am afraid that it would not be possible for Louie and me to take you up on your kind invitation to visit your farm. When we do get to Cairo, tentatively planned for the evening of Monday, January 3, I have made a note to telephone you. We hope to see you. Dear Bob:

Thank you for your letter of December 6. which was forwarded to me here from my address in New York. I note what you write regarding the "oral history" project being sponsored by Princeton University in connection with the John Foster Dulles Library of Diplomatic History. My own recollections of meetings with Foster Dulles are rather dim. I knew him as a lawyer before he became Secretary. However, if it is felt worthwhile to add my contribution to the series of tape recordings I shall be glad to spend some time with Dean Challener. As I am likely to have to be away from the United States from now until about January 10, 1966, such a meeting with Dean Challener will have to be after mid-January. Perhaps, at his convenience, he will get in touch with my office here (DUdley 1-2001) to arrange a mutually convenient date and time.

Visit by Mr. Woods to London, November 27 - December 4

1. During his visit to London, Mr. Woods attended, smong other meetings, the following:

Meeting at The Treasury, Tuesday, November 30 at 12:00 noon. There were present Sir Denis Rickett, Mr. Milner Barry, Mrs. Hedley-Miller and Mr. J.G. Littler of The Treasury; Mr. Maurice Parsons of the Bank of England; and Mr. Marr of the Ministry of Overseas Development. Mr. Woods wes accompanied by Mr. Miller and myself.

2. Mr. Woods reviewed the current position of the World Bank Group on certain major matters and the following points were made:

(a) IDA Second Replenishment - Before progress could be made in regard to a second replenishment for IDA, it was necessary to wait for further clarification regarding the attitude of the largest contributor to granting financial aid to India and Pakistan, the major beneficiaries of IDA funds. The Bank is continuing to process projects in these two countries. Assuming that the major contributor is prepared to support further development financing for these two countries, should the existing authorization be exhausted and even though the second replenishment of IDA may not have been completed, Mr. Woods would submit to the IDA Board projects for approval "subject to availability of further IDA commitment authorizations."

(b) As regards the Indus project, the technicians have advised the Bank that the recent hostilities have not caused an appreciable difference in the total cost, nor has the timetable for completion been substantially delayed. The true position will be known more accurately in the next three to six months. Mr. Woods referred briefly to the additional financing which would be necessary if the Tarbele Dam is to proceed.

(c) IDA is far advanced in the consideration of two projects for Pakistan--a food grains project and a project for modernization and expansion of commercial vehicle fleet--and Mr. Woods intends to submit these to the IDA Board in the comparatively near future. Agreement to finance these projects will carry the Bank/IDA somewhat over the amount of their outstanding pledges to Pakistan.

(d) On India, there had been no new development except that the timing for the arrival of the Bank Economic Mission to examine the Fourth Plan had been set back. It was not now expected that the documents on the Fourth Plan would be ready until the early months of 1966.

(e) In response to a question from Mr. Parson, Mr. Woods said that the International Monetary Fund was taking the lead in discussing with the Indians the question of the Indian exchange rate. The World Bank Group intended to follow very closely, in the future, all developments in India regarding the progress of economic plans and the effective use of financing provided by the Bank/IDA and Consortium members. Mr. Woods advised the meeting of his proposed arrangements to station a high-level and competent Bank representative in New Delhi who would be supported by a qualified and adequate staff.

(f) Mr. Woods then outlined, briefly, his program to set up a small highly competent consulting group to assist the Bank in setting up a worldwide organization for the manufacture and distribution of fertilizers.

3. Meeting with Minister of Overseas Development, Wednesday, December 1 at 11:00 a.m. Mr. Woods met with Mrs. Barbara Castle, Minister of Overseas Development, who was accompanied by Sir Andrew Cohen and Messrs. Belcher, Fryer, Errock and Streeten. Mr. Woods was accompanied by Mr. Miller and myself. Mrs. Castle opened the meeting by stating that the policy of her Ministry was to support to the fullest extent the use of multilateral channels for rendering assistance to the less developed countries. Regretfully, the financial commitments with which the United Kingdom is at present faced allowed little scope for an increase in the United Kingdom's contributions to multilateral agencies at the moment. The more that the World Bank Group could do to assist the member countries which had a traditional relationship with the U.K., the less calls there would be on the U.K. for bilateral aid assistance to these countries, and, consequently, the more able the U.K. would be to assist the multilateral programs.

4. Mrs. Castle also mentioned the U.K.'s contribution to easing the terms of bilateral aid by waiving interest on its development loans. So far, interest-free loans had been made to nine countries, for periods of 25 years, involving a total amount of £68 million. The savings in interest to these recipient countries would amount, over the whole period of the loans, to about £45 million.

5. Mr. Woods asked Mrs. Castle to which member countries with traditional relationship with the U.K. the Bank/IDA could give more help. Mrs. Castle mentioned Kenya. She also stated that Seretse Kama, Prime Minister of Bechuanaland, had been rather disappointed with his visit to the United States which had not brought forth firm commitments for development financial assistance to his country. Mr. Woods said we were considering one project in Bechuanaland (a borehole project) and asked, if the proj-ect went ahead, would a U.K. guarantee be available for the financing. He received no direct answer to this question.

6. Mrs. Castle referred to the economic surveys being carried out by her Department in various African countries. Mr. Woods said that the Bank staff and the Ministry staff should cooperate to the fullest extent in regard to these economic surveys; Mr. Woods asked Mr. Miller to arrange for Mr. El Emary to call on Sir Andrew Cohen within the next two weeks to discuss this matter further. 7. Sir Andrew Cohen mentioned the case of Malawi. The United Kingdom is thinking of making available to Malawi about fll million over the next three years. In addition, Malawi will require about fl million a year from other sources. Mr. Woods said this matter should also be discussed with Mr. El Emary.

8. In conclusion, Mr. Woods outlined to Mrs. Castle and her colleagues the program for fertilizer production referred to in paragraph 2(f) above.

Dear Dr. Carli:

Your note of December 4 arrived just as I was about to write to you. I, too, was sorry that it was not possible for us to have a visit when I was in Rome last month but I am happy to know that you are entirely recovered and have returned actively to your post.

My schedule as it presently is organized contemplates that I will arrive in Rome-from Cairo-late in the morning of Friday, January 7. Assuming the plans continue unchanged, I trust that it will be possible for me to meet with you in the afternoon of that day. I will telephone to your office from the Excelsior Hotel when I arrive.

I take this opportunity of expressing my gratification at the arrangements for the purchase of $25 million, a very substantial sum, of various items from our portfolio by Ufficio Italiano dei Cambi, following my letter to you of October 22 and your response of November 10.

In addition, we are all most pleased with the IMI participation of $10 million in connection with the Mexican matter.

Dear John:

Last evening I got around to looking through the Litton Industries Annual Report for fiscal 1964-1965 which you sent to me. Of course Tex Thornton administers a marvelous business, as everyone knows, and I am sure that he and his colleagues are exceedingly effective businessmen. I am glad you are on his team. However, I spent more time on the report than I have ever spent on a business document, because of the fascinating combination of art and business. Perhaps the art side is too well done as I am afraid I spent more time with it than I did with the essay on the business.

My congratulations to all concerned on this unusual but exceedingly interesting and, for me, educational job.

Louie joins me in saying every good wish to you and Jane for a thoroughly enjoyable holiday season.

Dear Tommy:

I have your letter of December 2 about your interest in the Asian Development Bank. At a meeting in Manila last week a number of countries approved the draft charter for this bank, chose Manila as the site and set up a preparatory committee to continue the work necessary for final establishment of the bank. The countries that have decided to subscribe to the capital stock of the bank have been given until September 30, 1966, to take the legislative action necessary to make the initial payments and to join as members. As soon as a sufficient number of countries have become members, they will appoint governors, and the governors in turn will appoint a president. Present thinking is that the appointment of staff will be made by the president.

Japan has offered to make someone available as president, but this offer was not acted upon at Manila. However, it seems likely that Japan will be in a strong position with respect to the presidency, and when agreement has been reached on this point, the name of the candidate they have in mind will be made known. It is quite likely that this individual will begin to make contacts with people who may be interested in working for the bank after it comes into being. Our present understanding is that the preparatory committee will not be concerned with recruitment of personnel. It is possibly premature, therefore, to make any enquiries now.

However, over the next few months the position is bound to become a good deal clearer on this and on other questions. The people in this group of institutions who are keeping most closely in touch with these developments are William Diamond of the International Finance Corporation and I.P.M. Cargill, who is Director of the Far East Department of the IBRD. In the United States Government circles, I understand that your best contact would be Mr. Rutherford M. Poats of the U.S. Agency for International Development.

It was pleasant to hear from you again. I hope that you and your wife are both well and have a happy and relaxing holiday season.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Miss Burfield:

Thank you for your note of December 1, 1965, enclosing the transcript of the speech I made at The Pilgrims' dinner on November 29. I was out of Washington when this arrived but have now had an opportunity of looking through it.

The opening two paragrephs, containing the references to the introductory speeches by Lord Harlech and Lord Howick, were an extemporary addition to my own speech. I have edited these paragraphs slightly and attach a redraft for your use.

The remainder of the speech was delivered by me from a reading copy. There are a few minor discrepancies between my reading copy and the transcript--mostly matters of punctuation and a few words which I appear either to have inserted or left out. As the World Bank has already put in hand a printing job on this speech, and in order to keep the two versions the same, I think it will be best for The Pilgrims' printed version also to follow the text as in my reading copy. I attach a mimeographed copy of that text which I would like you to use, with the addition of the two opening parsgraphs. I shall also see that you are sent a copy of our printed version as soon as it is available--probably towards the end of next week.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter. I much enjoyed my evening at the dinner which was excellently organized.

Sincerely,

"(Signed) George D. Woods

Mr. Lind (please note to send Miss Burfield a copy of our printed text

Mr. GEORGE D. WOODS (President of the World Bank), responding, said: I am particularly happy to be here tonight on the occasion of my friend, Lord Harlech's, initial appearance at a Pilgrims' dinner in his new office as President. It is by way of, as you might say, an added attraction for me--in addition to the honour of being invited to join you for dinner tonight.

If I may say so with reference to my friend and colleague in the profession--if I may use that term to describe our activities --of trying to finance development in the poorer countries--I refer to Lord Howick--I find myself speechless. I think that his remarks were generous, even over-generous, and so I am in just that position --speechless. Fortunately and happily from my point of view, I have a few prepared remarks which I will share with you in an effort to bridge this speechlessness resulting from the remarks by Lord Howick. Before I do so, however, I should just like to say to Lord Howick: thank you very much.

Dear Gagan:

Carling to State of the State

I have just returned from a ten-day combined business and pleasure trip to Europe and it was good to be welcomed back to the office by the news of your successful rights issue. Your earlier optimism concerning ICICI's ability to make this substantial offering has certainly proved well founded---and I am delighted. This amounts to a vote of confidence in you and your colleagues, both from your shareholders and from the greater financial community.

The response, particularly in view of the present state of the Indian capital market, says a great deal about ICICI's stending both in India and abroad. I am grateful for your considerable contribution to ICICI's attaining this standing.

With warm personal regards,

Dear Mr. Willoch:

I very much appreciate your courtesy in writing to me, in your letter of November 29, 1965, renewing the invitation extended by Mr. Trygve Lie to Mrs. Woods and myself to visit Norway as guests of the Government of Norway. A visit to your country would give both Mrs. Woods and myself great pleasure and would prove, I am sure, most interesting and informative.

I note your suggestion that the summer months would be the best time for such a visit. I have in front of me various invitations for 1966 and it is my intention to consider these early in the new year in order to plan my travel schedule for the year ahead. Accordingly, I shall write you sometime before March 1966 with suggested dates for a visit to Norway and I trust this will be convenient to you.

With best personal regards.

Dear Leland:

I was out of Washington at the end of last month for ten days or so on a brief visit to Europe. On my return, I received your note of November 23 enclosing a reprint of the article you contributed to the Atlantic Monthly.

I have read your article with much interest --it is clearly expressed and you make your points cogently and well. I agree fully with much that you say--our thoughts are certainly along the same lines. In my capacity as President of the Bank, I had better refrain from endorsing your remedies, however, otherwise I may be faced with applications for the financing of television and nuclear power projects!

I very much hope that the next two or three months will bring clarification of the United States' aid policy for the sub-continent so that progress in furthering the economic development of India--and Pakistan--can be resumed.

Warm regards.

You kindly wrote to me on September 3 after your return to Bombay. During the last week the copy of your book on "India's Balance of Payments" duly arrived here in good condition. I am glad to have this with its nice inscription from you. It was a pleasure to visit with you in Washington and I am glad that you found your course at the Economic Development Institute profitable and interesting.

I was in London last week and had an opportunity of seeing your father-in-law, Sir Biren Mookerjee. He was looking rather thin but well, and I was glad to talk with him again. He spoke very highly of you.

Mrs. Woods joins me in sending you our best wishes.

Dear David:

My office spoke with you on the telephone on Monday and explained the difficulty I find myself in over the meeting of the New York Foundation on January 7. I was out of town but wented to inform you immediately that something had come up to interfere with the arrangement you and I made some time ago. I am indeed sorry that I cannot manage to be with you but I find that it will be impossible for me to get back from Europe (where I have to visit in the first week of January) to New York by that date. I know that you fixed the meeting for January 7 to try and meet my convenience and I am most disappointed at not being with you. When you fix the date for the next meeting of the Foundation, I shall do my best to reserve it.

Warm regards.

Consultative Group Meetings in London

This note will confirm the information which I passed to you orally on return from the recent visit in London by Mr. Woods.

During his visit to London, Mr. Woods ask Mr. Miller what arrangements were being made for a meeting place for any consultative group meetings which are to be held in London. Mr. Miller indicated that he was trying to obtain a meeting room in New Zealand House. In response to a question from Mr. Woods as to whether that meeting room would have simultaneous translation facilities, Mr. Miller said that these could be rented separately. Later on, Mr. Woods visited the headquarters of the International Coffee Association at 22 Berners Street. This is a new headquarters for the International Coffee people and has a council room fitted up with simultaneous translation with booths for the interpreters. Although we did not see the other accommodations, we understand that there are also smaller committee rooms available. In addition, at 22 Berners Street there is the headquarters of the Inter-Governmental Maritime Consultative Organization (IMCO) and we believe the rooms belonging to IMCO are also fitted up with simultaneous translation facilities. At any rate, the next meeting of ACC is to be held there.

Mr. Woods feels that 22 Berners Street would be a very suitable place to hold consultative group meetings in London, and he would like you to explore the possibility with the International Coffee Association and/or IMCO.

Mr. Woods feels that it is most important not only that simultaneous translation facilities are available for these meetings but also that all participants know in advance that these facilities will be available. It may well influence member countries when deciding who to send to these meetings if they are assured that translation facilities will be available.

Dear Johnnie:

It was pleasant seeing you and Madeline in London. I think that the London visit went well and according to schedule and I am grateful to you for all your help. We are now turning our attention here to tying up the details for the next visit abroad for Mr. and Mrs. Woods.

Visit to Morocco

We hold the following reservations for Mr. and Mrs. Woods:

- Friday, December 24, TWA Flight #802 from New York to Paris, arriving Paris 10:45 p.m.
- Monday, December 27, Royal Air Maroc Flight #503, which leaves Paris at 9:40 a.m. and arrives Casablanca at 11:45 a.m.
- Thursday, December 30, for the return trip from Morocco to Paris, we have requested reservations on Air France Flight #2006 which leaves Casablanca at 1:00 p.m. and arrives Paris at 5:00 p.m. These reservations have not been confirmed as yet.

You have already booked Mr. and Mrs. Woods at the Bristol Hotel their usual suite - from Friday, December 24, through Monday, December 27, and again from Thursday, December 30 through January 2.

I shall not be accompanying Mr. Woods on the Moroccan trip; he has very kindly said that I can stay here to be with my family over Christmas. Mr. Benjenk will be going with Mr. Woods. We hold, or have requested air bookings for him and he will no doubt be making his own hotel reservations in Paris.

Visit to Finance Minister Giscard d'Estaing

When Mr. Woods returns to Paris on December 30, he would like to have ammeeting with Mr. Giscard d'Estaing. Will you kindly try to arrange such a meeting for Friday, December 31. So far, Mr. Woods is free that day and I suggest that you should try and arrange the meeting for, say, ll:00 a.m. When you have word as to whether the meeting is convenient for Mr. Giscard d'Estaing, perhaps you will kindly send us a telex message.

Visit to UAR

Mr. Woods also intends to visit the UAR - this would be a brief visit spent mainly in Cairo with a side trip to the Aswan Dam. So far, this visit has not been announced, and I suggest you keep it confidential for the time being.

We have made the following bookings for Mr. and Mrs. Woods to Cairo:

Monday, January 3, Swiss Air Flight #701 which leaves Paris at 10:20 a.m. and arrives Zurich at 11:25 a.m.

Air India Flight #116 which leaves Zurich at 1:40 p.m. and arrives Cairo at 7:40 p.m.

The return trip from Cairo to the United States has not been finalized as yet, but Mr. Woods intends to stop over at Rome for one or two nights. He will not be back through Paris. I shall be accompanying Mr. and Mrs.Woods on their visit to the UAR.

From the above, two further points emerge (a) the booking at the Bristol Hotel for Mr. and Mrs. Woods should be extended through January 3, (b) I think you have already tentative bookings for me at the Bristol, just in case I went on the Moroccan trip - these can now be cancelled except that I would like a single room in the Bristol for the night of Sunday, January 2.

We would be much obliged if you could arrange, as necessary, based on the above schedule. I hope all goes well for your son's wedding on December 14.

All the best,

Yours ever,

I was in London this week with Mr. Woods, the President of the World Bank, and we had the pleasure of being entertained to lunch at CDC by Lord Howick. It was pleasant to be back at 33 Hill Street and to see a number of old friends there.

It was nice to hear from you again. My family and I are all very well and enjoying life here.

Dear Mr. Adams:

Your letter of November 16th addressed to Mr. George Woods has been received in his absence. As he will not return from abroad until December 1st I am writing to acknowledge your invitation to him to the National Football Foundation's Annual Dinner to be held at the Waldorf Astoria on December 7th.

Unfortunately Mr. and Mrs. Woods have accepted a dinner invitation in Washington for that evening. I am sure Mr. Woods will be sorry to miss the Foundation's dinner, especially since it will be an occasion when Mr. Juan Trippe will be honored.

Dear Mahmud:

Dr. M. S. Patel, M.Sc., Ph.D., of Santa Cruz, Bombay-54-AS, India, has written to me regarding a visit which he proposes to make to Ethiopia. Dr. Patel is a consulting industrial chemist, a chemical engineer and an economic geologist. I have known Dr. Patel for a number of years and have a fine opinion of him and his work. He has had a vast experience being in the middle sixties and was educated at Cornell University.

Dr. Patel has asked me to give him an introduction to the representative of the World Bank Group stationed in Ethiopia. This latter, a copy of which I am sending to Dr. Patel, will introduce him to you, and it is likely that Dr. Patel will be writing to you direct when the arrangements for his visit to Ethiopia are finalized. When Dr. Patel does so, and when he visits you in Addis Ababa, I should like you to do whatever you appropriately can to be of assistance to him.

I trust that you are finding your assignment interesting and worthwhile.

With best wishes.

Dear Dauph:

You wrote to me earlier this month and last Saturday Rene Carrillo telephoned to me about the Deltec Annual Meeting to be held in Nassau in January.

I would like very much to attend this meeting, but in fact it will not be feasible for me to plan to do so. As it happens there are a number of questions which are purely my responsibility, i.e., not the ordinary items of Bank/IDA/ IFC operations, which will be active in January and February. I refer, among other things, to Bank financing both in North America and Europe and to the discussions relating to the second replenishment of IDA, which comes up at B-year intervals. Then, too, our largest commitments are in India and Pakistan and discussions with respect to these countries will be active during January.

Perhaps I will be in better shape the following year, and if you invite me I will try to join you, but I am sure, on reflection, you will appreciate my difficulty with respect to your 1966 Meeting.

I had known that he had circulatory problems and had survived more than one coronary incident, and I am sorry that his constructive and active life has come to an end. I had several business negotiations with him and always found him highly intelligent and completely sympathetic to the problems under discussion, and quick to express a viewpoint or, where it was a required, a conclusion.

Your Excellency:

From our previous discussions and correspondence you will be aware that, in order to help meet the needs of the developing countries the World Bank must raise an increasingly large amount of funds whenever and wherever reasonable opportunities permit. I also know from these discussions that it is the policy of the Swiss Government to participate actively in helping to finance the developing countries. However, as you know, we find difficulty in getting access to the Swiss bond market, and the Swiss France 333 million of loans made to the Bank by the Swiss Government have now been reduced to Swiss Frances 133 million as a result of the repayments which we have been making. In view of the constructive policy of the Swiss Government towards the World Bank, I feel sure that you will share my desire that Switzerland should play a larger part in its financing and that, at the very minimum, the volume of Swiss funds available to us should not be reduced.

To this end I should like to ask you to renew the Swiss Francs 50 million which is due to mature on January 1, 1966 on the loan which the Swiss Government made to the Bank in 1961. If, as I hope, you would find it possible to do this, I should be grateful for your ideas about the date on which you would suggest that such renewal might mature. For my part I would like it to be for as long as possible, and would hope that it might be for at least five years.

I would very much appreciate your consideration of this matter and look forward to hearing from you about it.

Dear Johnnie: London Visit

Just to keep you up-to-date on the plans for the London visit, let me report as follows:

Sunday, November 28 Mr. Woods wants to keep from 4:30 p.m. onwards free for a possible appointment.

Monday, November 29

As the tentative appointment with Lord Cromer cancelled out, Mr. Woods has now made an appointment at Claridges at 10:00 a.m. with Sir Harold Wilkinson--this is probably rather a personal one.

11:45 a.m.--we have shifted the signing of the Coffee Agreement to 11:45 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. in order to give Mr. Woods more time on his Wilkinson appointment.

1:00 p.m.-Lord Howick has confirmed the lunch. Incidentally, Martin Rosen will be accompanying Mr. Woods to that lunch.

Thank you for your note of November 4, 1965. I remember meeting you in 1964 when I had the opportunity of a most interesting and useful talk with Mr. Papandreou. I shall read your paper on the economic development of Greece with interest, and shall pass it on to my associates here who have responsibilities for our operations in that area.

When you visit Washington in January, please telephone my office (DUdley 1-2001). I do not know as yet what my own schedule will be during January, but if I am not in Washington I should like you to meet Mr. S. R. Cope, Director of our Europe and Middle East Department.

Dear Escott:

I much appreciated your thought in sending me a copy of the talk you gave to The Empire Club in Toronto on November 4, 1965, entitled "Prospects in India and Pakistan." Your views on this serious problem are of interest to me and, although you spoke as a real friend of both countries in the subcontinent, I think you were successful in putting the facts in an objective way and within the world context of the problem.

It was good to hear from you again.

Warm personal regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Lie:

I was looking forward to having a talk with you during the recent Governors' Meetings of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank Group, but, in the event, you were unable to come. I now learn that following the change in Government, Mr. Kare Willoch has succeeded you as Minister of Commerce and Shipping and as Governor for Norway in the World Bank Group. We were glad to have you serve as one of our Governors, and I send you my best wishes for continued success in whatever position in public life you occupy.

In your letter to me of August 26 you invited Mrs. Woods and me to visit Norway as guests of the Norwegian Government. I want you to know that we would very much like to see something of Norway and hope that a visit might be possible, perhaps next year.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Johnni.e:

London Visit

This refers to your letter of November 5, which has just come in, and to our telephone conversation of today. Here is the schedule, as it now looks, for Mr. Woods's visit to London. After some consideration, Mr. Woods has decided he had better skip a meeting with ODI--there are just too many other things he has to fit in.

If there are any changes, or developments, at this end I shall keep you advised and I am sure you will advise me of any changes you have to make.

Paris Bookings

To turn to a new subject, Mr. Woods has agreed to visit Morocco from December 27 to December 30, both dates inclusive. We are arranging the flights from here but, perhaps, you will kindly arrange hotel bookings in Paris for Mr. and Mrs. Woods--their usual suite--at The Bristol for the following:

(a) Friday, December 24 through (the American term) Monday, December 27.

(b) Thursday, December 30 through January 2--maybe longer will be required.

I do not know if I shall be on this Moroccan trip. I should like, of course, to be with the Boss but it is very difficult to get away around Christmas. If necessary, I am sure I can always get a room somewhere, but if you think that is torrisky book me somewhere "in case."

Benjenk, a bachelor, will definitely be with the Boss for the Moroccan trip but doubtless he will make his own booking.

Yours ever,

Mr. John D. Miller, Director European Office International Bank for Reconstruction and Development 4, Avenue d'Iena Paris 16°, France

Dear Lord Howick:

When you were here for the Annual Governors' Meetings of the World Bank Group, you asked me to sound Mr. Woods out as to whether he would be able to lunch with you, and perhaps some members of the Board of CDC, during his forthcoming visit to London for The Pilgrims' dinner.

I spoke to Mr. Woods about this at the time, but it was then rather too early for him to determine what all he would have to do during his stay in London. As his programme now looks, Mr. Woods is free for lunch on Monday, November 29, and he has told me that he would be very pleased indeed to lunch with you then, if you should wish him to do so. Your own plans may have changed and this may not be suitable for you; if that is so, Mr. Woods would quite understand.

As Mr. Woods's London schedule is now getting pretty full, we should be most grateful if you would let us know by cable if you would like him to reserve lunch on Monday for CDC.

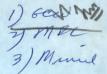

With best regards,

Yours sincerely,

G. C. Wishart Personal Assistant to Mr. Woods

International School in Washington

1. Mr. Woods had a luncheon meeting on Tuesday, October 26, 1965, with Mr. Pierre-Paul Schweitzer of the International Monetary Fund who was accompanied by Mr. Phillip Thorson, and with Mr. Felipe Herrera of the Inter-American Development Bank who was accompanied by Mr. Ignacio Copete. Messrs. Lejeune and Wishart accompanied Mr. Woods. Before the meeting, Mr. Lejeune had circulated to the heads of the other two institutions a draft note, dated July 19, 1965, (Attachment "A") setting out the Bank's position on the proposal to establish an international school in Washington.

2. Both Mr. Schweitzer and Mr. Herrera stated, at the outset of the meeting, that they were prepared to recommend an international school project to their respective boards, subject to the proviso, which was also set out in paragraph 5 of the memorandum stating the Bank's position, that such a school should undergo a testing period of several years in rented or borrowed quarters before a final decision is taken to acquire land and erect school buildings.

3. Mr. Thorson then tabled a checklist of points (Attachment "B") on which decisions are now required. These were considered one by one:

(a) The initial support required from the three institutions involved an agreement to underwrite the preliminary start-up expenses (estimated at up to $100,000) and to underwrite operating deficits over the first few (seven) years which might total up to $900,000. It was agreed that the heads of the three institutions would so recommend to their respective boards based on a formula for sharing costs of 2:1:1 for the World Bank Group: International Monetary Fund: Inter-American Development Bank. This formula appeared reasonable based on present figures of the over-all number of staff members in each of the three institutions who were likely to make use of an international school for their children. Mr. Woods accepted the cost-sharing formula on the express understanding that it would be subject to review at the end of the third operating year of the international school, and Mr. Schweitzer and Mr. Herrera agreed this understanding.

(b) During discussion, it was considered unlikely that any of the Foundations would contribute to the costs of running the international school, although a Foundation might be interested in financing, say, a study of the proper curriculum for such a school, since such a study might have wider application elsewhere.

(c) It was noted that both the World Bank Group and the IMF have at present a system of educational grants for foreign staff members who wish to educate their children either in their home country or in a school in Washington which provides tuition in the home language of the foreign national. The IDB does not have such an educational grant policy at the moment but Mr. Herrera said that he intended to recommend such a policy to his Board.

(d) In order to make it feasible for parents to send their children to the international school, some subsidization of the yearly fees would be required if an adequate number of students are to be forthcoming. It was agreed by the heads of the three institutions that this could most appropriately be done by extending the use of the educational grant system by accepting the international school as an approved educational establishment, attendance at which would qualify the parents of the students for educational grants. However, all three heads agreed that United States citizens should continue to be ineligible for the educational grant in Washington.

(e) Both Mr. Schweitzer and Mr. Woods indicated that they would consider recommending to their Boards an increase in the amounts of the educational grants from the levels now payable. The exact amount of the increase was remitted, in the first instance, for consideration by Mr. Thorson and Mr. Lejeune. Mr. Herrera indicated that he would also like Mr. Copete to be kept informed on this matter so as to assist in determining what policy he should put forward to the Board of IDB.

(f) Consideration was also given to whether there should be an ascending scale of grants where a family had a number of children to be educated. But it was agreed that, for the time being at least, the heads of the three institutions were not prepared to recommend such an ascending scale.

(g) As to the students who would be admitted to the proposed international school, it was agreed that first priority must go to the children of foreign nationals employed by the three institutions. Thereafter, if further places were available, consideration should be given to the children of U.S. nationals in the employ of the three institutions. If any further vacancies were available, the children of the diplomats in the foreign embassies of member countries of the three institutions would receive consideration.

4. To proceed further in this matter it was agreed that a paper with detailed recommendations should now be submitted to the Boards of the three institutions and Messrs. Copete, Thorson and Lejeune were asked to collaborate in preparing such a submission which, as far as possible, would be the same. The timing envisaged was that the submission would be put to the respective Boards at regular Board meetings held by the institutions during November.

5. In the paper to be submitted to the Boards, it would be stated that the next step would be to establish a steering committee, to develop and press on with the project and to submit detailed recommendations at a later date. The composition of the steering committee would be two nominees from each of the three institutions concerned. In this connection, Mr. Woods said he would not claim a right for the World Bank Group to have more members than the other two institutions, since this was a matter on which there should be unanimity rather than weighted voting. Mr. Schweitzer and Mr. Herrera indicated their appreciation of Mr. Woods's position.

Discussion took place regarding the nominees to be appointed and it was agreed that, as the steering committee must be a working body, it would be preferable for the nominees to be staff members or other individuals who had taken a prominent part in pushing forward this project, for example, perhaps a representative of the parents involved might be nominated. It was left that Mr. Copete, Mr. Thorson and Mr. Lejeune would recommend to the heads of the three institutions the names of possible nominees from their respective institutions.

It was also agreed that the chairman of the steering committee should be nominated by the heads of the three institutions and that the steering committee should be provided with a full-time executive secretary or other full-time employee, probably by secondment from the staff of the World Bank Group.

6. It would be part of the work of the steering committee to consider the composition of the Board of Governors for the proposed international school and to come up with recommendations.

7. Mr. Herrera invited Mr. Schweitzer and Mr. Woods, and their associates, to meet for luncheon at the Inter-American Development Bank on Friday, December 3, to review progress on the project. By that date, the reactions of the Boards of the three institutions should be known.

Attachment "A"

DRAFT July 19, 1965

WASHINGTON INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

The following sets out the Bank's position on the proposal to establish an International School in Washington.

1. The Bank is prepared to sponsor and help subsidize a school catering to three categories of families:

(a) Nationals of countries other than the United States ("foreigners") seeking a curriculum which will prepare their children for universities in their own countries;

(b) Foreigners seeking an atmosphere and curriculum calculated to preserve their culture even though their children may go to North American universities;
(c) U.S. nationals committed to careers in international work in international organizations, the United States Foreign Service or in foreign aid programs who seek a school of an international character and strong on languages.

The Bank believes that in building up and maintaining an international staff it is important to provide a school for the first two categories of families. If there is to be an International School at all, it is important for the school itself to have a balance of nationalities, including U.S. nationals. Moreover, the school will need the moral and financial support of U.S. people and institutions if it is to be a success. Hence it becomes important to cater for the third category as well.

2. The Feasibility Study shows that, provided the school is properly organized and well run, it can meet the needs of these three groups. It seems obvious, however, it will not be easy to strike a ready balance between the proper exercise of influence by national education authorities on the curriculum of the school and its own unity and autonomy. Thus, as stated in the report, a heavy investment of time and money must be allotted to curriculum development in the early years.

3. The Bank endorses the view of the Working Committee that efforts must be made to enlist the financial support of the large foundations in a curriculum study which might continue for five to seven years. It is noted that the Financial Plan of the proposed school does not take into account the costs of such a study.

4. The Bank does not subscribe to the concept that the school should cater for U.S. nationals in the Washington area who would seek admission simply to gain a higher standard of general education than is obtainable in the public or other private schools. This does not mean that the Bank feels that the children of U.S. nationals who are not part of the international community should be excluded, but only that preference in filling vacant places should be given to those forming part of the international community.

5. The Bank is prepared to assist in underwriting the capital costs of the school. It is understood that these costs could run as high as $3,900,000, assuming that a site had to be bought and a new plant constructed for as many as 1,000 students. The Bank is willing to contribute together with the other institutions on the basis of a formula geared to the number of staff members of each institution or to any other formula which broadly relates the Bank's share of the three institutions benefiting from the school. However, while the Bank is prepared to contemplate committing itself to a contribution to the capital costs of the new school, it believes that it should undergo a testing period of several years in rented or borrowed quarters before a final decision to acquire land and build is teken.

6. Noting that under very favorable conditions (i.e., over half the teachers seconded by national governments) the operating costs of the school in the eighth and succeeding years would be about $1,100 per pupil and that the Financial Plan of the study estimates a cost of about $1,450 per pupil for the first eight years, the Bank recognizes that the operating costs of the proposed school must also be subsidized.

7. In principle the Bank is prepared to subsidize the operating costs of the school, but in doing so would wish its assistance to be related to the children of its own staff members. It would, for example, be willing to pay the existing education allowance in respect of children of all foreign employees attending this school. Present policies would permit this only for French and Spanish-speaking children, but the Bank would be willing to broaden the policy so as to cover all foreigners.

8. The Working Committee and others support the view that education allowances be payable as well in respect of children of U.S. employees attending the school. In the Bank's opinion, however, the school can only be justified as a means of preserving for the children of foreigners something of their own culture. While it would welcome U.S. children in the school, it would not wish to subsidize their attendance by contributing to the cost of their fees.

9. The Bank believes that, to assure that all three Boards will be addressing themselves to the same, or at least similar, considerations, recommendations, should be formulated and agreed upon before the Feasibility Study is circulated to the Executive Directors.

10. The Bank believes that it would be advisable to establish a steering committee to be composed of a chairman and representatives chosen by the three institutions and including some members of the Working Committee. This steering committee would be responsible for taking the necessary action to get the school into being. This committee would be succeeded by a properly constituted Board of Governors.

11. Above all, the Bank believes that this school should be sponsored and brought into being only if all three institutions are willing actively to work for its success.

Oheck List of Decisions on Washington International School for Luncheon of October 26, 1965

- 1. Basic decision whether to sponsor and support School.
- 2. Agreement to pay estimated starting up expenses:
 - a. Preliminary expenditures before classes start -- up to $100,000.
 - b. Costs of furniture, equipment, books and refurbishing rented quarters--$60,000 for first year, $45,000 for next two years.
- 3. Possible need to bear operating deficits for first seven years totalling $500,000 to $900,000.
- 4. Formula for sharing costs--suggest 2-1-1, IBRD, IMF, IDB.
- 5. No commitment at present time on expenditures for a new school plant.
- 6. Common policy on educational grants:
 - a. Present policy is 50% of tuition cost with maximum of $500.
 - b. Consider increasing limits as U.N. is proposing.
 - c. Consider larger grant for more than one child.
- 7. Commitments expected in return for sponsorship:
 - a. Priority consideration for admission of children.
 - b. Representation on governing board.
- 8. Suggested organizational arrangements for starting up School:

Interim steering committee of two each from IMF and IDB and three or four from IBRD with authority to incorporate, make expenditures, appoint Headmaster and other personnel, etc.

- 9. Composition and selection of Governing Board. Time it should take over.
- 10.= Timing for submission of recommendations and Feasibility Study to Executive Boards. Mid-November?

Note: Tabled by Mr. Thorson of IMF.

Dear Biren:

Our appraisal of TISCO's Phase I project has taken longer than we thought because of the problems relating to the Company's supply of iron ore outlined in the consultants' reports which have been recently sent to you. There is no need to have Phase I delayed until these problems have been finally solved, but I do feel that we need to know that you are on the way to reaching a solution. As suggested in Mr. Stevenson's letter which accompanied the reports, a qualified consulting firm to appraise and recommend solutions to the problems recently emphasized appears to us as being the most expeditious way to do this.

It is now well over a year since we saw each other and it would be useful if we could meet to discuss IISCO's future. There is one particular point, difficult to handle by correspondence, which I would like to discuss with you. I shall be in London in the period of November 28 to December 1, inclusive. Is there any possibility that we could meet there at that time?

With warmest regards to you both, in which Louie joins.

IVORY COAST

The points I wanted to leave in your mind after our conversation are:

- 1. All of us in the World Bank have the highest regard for President Houphouet-Boigny's administration of the affairs of Ivory Coast.
- 2. We feel the economic situation is sound and the future prospects bright but we take every opportunity to caution against incurring short-term indebtedness against projects with long-term payouts.
- 3. There are a number of projects in the Ivory Coast which we consider sound and, subject to detailed investigation, we would be prepared to finance.
- 4. We do not believe that the Bandama Project is the keystone in the arch of economic development in the Ivory Coast. On the contrary, we consider it an excellent example of the "prestige project."
- 5. The basic agricultural project involving development of the interior areas seems sound and, again subject to detailed study, should be financed. The power required at the outset can in our considered judgment be supplied most economically from thermal plants. A large initial investment in a dam can thereby be avoided. Available funds should be employed to the maximum in the agricultural sector--highways, railways, irrigation, warehousing, education, development finance for agriculturists, etc.
- 6. It is entirely possible that the harnessing of the Bandama River will be advantageous at a future time, after the initial phases of the development of productivity are further advanced.

Dear Jeh:

I refer to my note of October 25. Since it was dispatched we have been advised by GOI that the Bell Mission should delay its arrival in Delhi. As I understand it, the Fourth Plan is being reviewed and reconsidered and will not be ready for discussion with our people in mid-November. At present there is no indication of when these discussions might commence.

This being the case, you will not be hearing from Mr. Bell during this month. However, I will ask him to be in touch with you upon his arrival-whenever that may be.

Dear Mr. Larre:

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 13, in which you repeat the reservation which you have expressed on more than one earlier occasion regarding the rate of IDA commitments.

While I have never felt bound to restrict the operation of IDA by reason of the reservations of your authorities, and in fact from time to time have proposed IDA lending programs which might have exceeded the limit implied in them, as things have worked out there seems to be no problem between us as we approach the question of the second IDA replenishment.

During the three years covered by the first replenishment of IDA funds (commencing July 1, 1963), $910 million of new resources have thus far been made available for IDA purposes -- i.e., $750 million from the first replenishment and $125 million from the transfer of Bank net income, plus an aggregate of $35 million from various additional contributions from member countries, from the effect of cancellations against earlier credits, and from IDA earnings as projected through June 30, 1966.

If we carry out the full $469 million lending program which I proposed last July for the current fiscal year, total IDA lending commitments during this three-year period will amount to $1,057 million (net of cancellations). However, of this amount, $87 million would represent clearing up the backlog of previous consortium pledges to India and Pakistan which existed on July 1, 1963, and $59 million represents the special and non-recurring Indus Basin Credit extended in July 1964. The amount of commitments made in the course of IDA's regular lending program during these three years would therefore come to $911 million, or only $1 million more than the new resources accruing to IDA during the period.

I realize that your authorities have been concerned lest IDA commitments in excess of the funds becoming available might be used as an argument for increasing the IDA program at the time of the second replenishment. On the other hand, I presume that they would not want to see any encouragement given to reluctant IDA participants by a shortfall in IDA commitments below the funds available. I expect therefore that you and they will be pleased to see the results outlined above.

Sincerely.

Dear Johnnie:

I refer to the meeting at the Ritz Hotel, Paris, on 12th November 1965 on the Greek/Turkish cooperation project, sponsored by the NATO Parliamentarians Conference, which you are to attend as an observer.

Mr. Woods has received today four working papers for this meeting entitled:

1. Formation of National Committees Organization of the Project in Greece and Turkey

2. Formation of Task Forces

3. Proposed Special Meetings, to be held in Greece and Turkey in April, 1966

4. Cultural and Educational Cooperation

These came in to Mr. Woods from the: International Secretariat NATO Parliamentarians' Conference 12, Rue du Bois de Boulogne Neuilly-sur-Seine

Telephone 624-78-83 or 624-04-73

Instead of sending these working papers on to you, I think it will be quicker if you will kindly get your secretary to ring up the International Secretariat and ask for copies for your use. We can retain the others here for referance purposes. At the same time, you could ask for any further papers which are to be issued to be sent to you direct.

If you have any difficulty, of course, please let me know and we shall have our copies photographed and sent to you.

Dear Johnnie:

Thank you for your note of October 22.

As to The Pilgrims' dinner, Nut Hume very kindly asked me to go as his guest. Then, Bill Iliff also invited me. I explained to Bill about my prior invitation, and asked him if I could come back to him if, by any chance, Nut Hume had to be out of the country at the time of the dinner. However, I have since received the official admission card from Nut and I immediately wrote Bill on October 21, explaining the circumstances.

There is one other point, regarding the Boss's speech to The Pilgrims on which we would like your assistance. Could you ascertain, nearer the time, who will be attending and the correct form to be used by the Boss when opening his speech? I presume that some Ambassadors and high commissioners will be present, and I suppose there is always the possibility that there may be a cabinet minister, a bishop or even a stray duke! As we might have difficulty in getting this tied up at the last moment, the Boss would be very grateful if you would take the responsibility of giving him the exact form of words with which to open up. We understand that Lord Harlech is to be in the chair and Lord Howick is to introduce the Boss.

Thank you very much for arranging for me to be asked to the Economist lunch. I shall enjoy that--I always read the Economist with great interest.

With all the best,

Yours,

Thank you for your note of October 18 sending me a copy of the schedule for the "Seminar on American Finance." I have looked through this program with interest and I congratulate you, and your associates, in working out a fine agenda--it provides the participants with a good coverage of a broad cross section of industrial and financial institutions domiciled in the United States.

We here in the World Bank Group are looking forward to welcoming the participants in the Seminar when they visit us on Thursday, November 16.

Dear Harold:

I am exceedingly sorry to have the news about your misfortune, but this is offset to some extent when you say that you are now moving around and that I may see you at the end of November. Louie has berated me. privately and in public, for thirty years for "never lifting my finger around the house." I don't know what she is going to say when I ask her to read what happened to "Harold the Handyman." Yes, I think she is coming with me because I think we will be on the Continent for a week or ten days before the Pilgrims affair. However, I do not think it advisable to plan on having dinner --in the first place you'd better take it easy and in the second place I do not expect to be in London for more than one night other than the Pilgrims evening, and I am already committed for that. Let's leave it that I will make it a point to ring you up when we arrive in London.

Louie joins me in sending all the best to you and Alice, as well as to Louisa, the grandchildren, and John.

Dear Mr. Minister:

Now that you will have returned to Ethiopia, I am sure that you look back with pleasure, and satisfaction, on the recent Governors' Meetings of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank Group, over which you presided, as Chairman, in such an admirable fashion. It was certainly a privilege for me to sit with you on the platform during that week, and to have the opportunity, which the Meetings afforded, of becoming acquainted with you.

During these Meetings, you honored me by extending en invitation to Mrs. Woods and myself to visit Ethiopia, as guests of the Government of His Imperial Majesty The Emperor. I have kept this invitation in the forefront of my mind hoping that I could write you to suggest specific dates for your consideration. However, it is now clear that it will not be possible for me to visit Ethiopia during the remaining months of 1965. It is my hope that I shall be able to do so during the first half of 1966, and, with this end in view, I shall keep your invitation in front of me and communicate with you further in January or February 1966.

In the meantime, I would ask you to convey my sincere thanks to His Imperial Majesty for this invitation, and to accept them for yourself and your colleagues in the Government.

Warm personal regards.

Nr. J. R. D. Tata c/o Imperial Hotel Vienna, Austria

Dear Jehr

This note will be full of "no news" -- in other words merely a confirmation of what has already been conveyed to you through your New York office.

First, in response to your letters of September 16 and October 13, I do not think any particularly useful purpose (excepting you would brighten my life and Louie's, but this would qualify) would be served by a visit here in November or December. I feel that we could have a more worthwhile discussion in January or February, or possibly March, of next year. By that time we will all know something more about the political picture on your sub-continent. In addition, we in the Bank should know considerably more about the make-up of the Fourth Flan and the probability of arranging the required financing. Furthermore, by that time your Government may have come closer to clarifying its thinking in connection with the contemplated TISCO expansion.

I expect that the World Bank mission for the purpose of studying and evaluating the proposed Fourth Five-Year Plan will be in India about the middle of November. It will be headed by Mr. Bernard Bell. By the early part of next year I expect to have the benefit of the findings and viewpoints of that mission.

I read your August 13 speech with considerable interest. I thought it an excellent job, thoughtful and well reasoned. Mr. Bell has also read it and I have suggested that he find the time to have a visit with you when he returns to India next month. He and I agree, unreservedly, with you that emphasis must be put on the utilization of existing production capacity and on the completion of facilities already under way. I dare say that this is one point upon which all observers of and commentators on the Indian situation would agree.

Second, with respect to your latter of October 19, everything possible is being done to expedite disbursements under the recent IDA credit, which is for the express purpose of facilitating full use of existing industrial capacity. The covenants and procedures are very much simpler than those which were included in the first credit of this type, made a year or two ago. Despite the then hostilities, we declared the credit effective on September 10.

When I received your letter I talked to Mr. Sundara Rajan and expressed disappointment at the apparent inability of GOI to process the necessary papers in order to achieve the objective of the IDA credit. Mr. Sundara Rajan assured me that various problems which had existed were clearing up and that appropriate import licenses would be issued shortly to industries participating in the project. If the procedures have not become effective and TELCO is not in possession of the documentation required to enable the flow of the required items by the end of this week, i.e., October 30, I would like to be advised so that I can again approach GOI on this matter. I was under great pressure from various sources to accelerate, and simplify the terms of this credit, and I am delighted to have the opportunity of applying similar pressure in the opposite direction to assist in achieving the ultimate objective, which presumably both parties to the credit agreement are interested in.

Warmest regards to you and Thelly, in which Louie joins.

Dear Milton:

I am gradually working my way through the accumulation of papers which the Annual Governors' Meetings always seem to leave in their wake, and I write to you to say that I thought your paper at the San Francisco meeting in mid-September was an excellent one and I have heard several favorable comments on it.

I saw you in the distance once or twice during the Fund-Bank Meeting, but never had an opportunity of shaking hands with you. If I had, I would have congratulated you on the section in the last BIS Annual Report headed, "Problems of Developing Countries." About everything which has been said or written since that was published in June is a "re-hash" of the points which you made, succinctly and in an orderly fashion. As a practitioner in the field of financing development, I am very grateful to you for including this section in your report. Gradually, the basic facts are becoming more widely understood. with the result that the importance of the subject and the necessity of trying to do something about it is more generally appreciated. Greater numbers of people are working on answers to one or another of the numerous facets of the problem, and as ideas emerge there seems to me to be a greater interest in thinking about them constructively than there was a year or two ago.

Warm regards.

Visit to London for the Pilgrims' Dinner, November 29, 1965.

- 1. Lisbon to London We have requested two seats for you and Mrs. Woods on Sunday, November 28, BE #073 (Comet 4), leaving Lisbon at 2:25 P.M. and arriving London 4:55 P.M. We also tried to get two seats on the afternoon flight Saturday, November 27, in case of bad weather in Europe which might make Sunday travel too risky. We are now informed that the Saturday afternoon flight has been discontinued. The only alternative would be a Portuguese airline flight leaving Lisbon at 7:50 A.M. on the Saturday morning. Is this too early to try for?
- If you go to Rome, there is a good daily plane leaving Rome, BE #171 (Trident), at 1:25 P.M. and arriving London 2:40 P.M. We suggest putting in a covering booking for you for Saturday, November 27.
- If you go to Lisbon, we suggest booking you on SR #141 on Saturday, November 20, leaving New York at 6:50 P.M. and arriving Lisbon Sunday at 6:15 A.M.

If you go to Rome, we suggest booking you on PA #118 on Saturday, November 20. (The TWA flight makes two stops.)

Shall we make double bookings from New York to Lisbon and New York to Roma to keep you covered?

Dr. Guido Carli Governor Banca d'Italia 91, Via Mazionale Rome. Italy

Dear Dr. Carli:

Since I saw you here at the Annual Meeting I have been reviewing the position in regard to the financing of the Bank during the coming year. The enclosed estimate of our future requirements, which I distributed to the Executive Directors a few weeks ago, will give you some idea of our needs. Present policies of the U.S. and the relative scarcity of capital in Europe make the outlook very uncertain and it is for this reason, among others, that I have been so interested--and encouraged--to note the renewed strength of the Italian economy in recent months. It is most gratifying that your efforts to promote balanced growth within a framework of monetary stability have paid such handsome dividends, and it has led me to hope that there may be some way in which, at one and the same time, we could meet a substantial part of our needs and you could find a constructive outlet for some of the funds which have been flowing into Italy.

You will have a better idea than I can have of what may be possible, but I should like to tell you some of the things that are in my mind. One is the 15-year lire issue which you offered to buy from us in 1962, with the intention that at a later date it could be offered to the public in Italy. This transaction fell through, but could we think of a similar issue, either in lire or in dollars? Then, I expect you know about our private placements with the Bundesbank, initially entirely in U.S. dollars, but more recently one-half dollars and one-half deutsche marks. The total of these now outstanding is the equivalent of about $600 million, with maturities of between four and twelve years. We have had similar transactions with the Swiss Government, usually with maturities in the six to eight-year range.

I have also been interested to learn that you have in the past (through Cambital) purchased substantial amounts of up to ten-year maturities of our loans to Italy. We would be glad to arrange further transactions of this kind or, if Cambital would find this more convenient, make a special issue of bonds or notes which they could take up.

I mention these matters to show that I have no preconceived ideas about the form that any Bank financing in Italy might take. Other possibilities may occur to you, and I would be grateful if you would consider what we might be able to do. If you think it would be useful, some of us from here would be glad to meet with you in Rome at your convenience to discuss the matter further.

Sincerely yours,

George D. Woods

Dear Mr. Maheu:

My office has been informed by Mrs. A. Moylan-Brown, of the UNESCO Liaison Office in Washington, that you are to be visiting Washington on Tuesday, November 9, and Wednesday, November 10. I and my appropriate senior colleagues here will look forward very much to seeing you, and the opportunity your visit will afford of a talk on matters of mutual interest.

The Executive Directors of the World Bank generally hold regular monthly meetings (as well as others), after which they and the senior officers of the Bank meet together for lunch. At these monthly luncheons it is the custom to invite a distinguished guest to attend and to ask our guest to speak informally after lunch for 10 or 12 minutes. If time permits there may also be a short question and answer period.

The next date for such a luncheon is Tuesday, November 9, and it would be most appropriate, and of great interest to all the Executive Directors and the senior staff, if you would consent to be our special guest on that occasion. The talk after lunch is really very informal but would give us all the opportunity of hearing from you, personally, about the work of UNESCO and the joint UNESCO and World Bank cooperative progrem. The lunch is to be held in our Bank Executive Dining Room and usually the participants gather there around 12:45 p.m. Perhaps you could come to my office (Room 1220) at that hour.

After the lunch meeting breaks up, we could return to my office for a business talk. Please let me know, at your convenience, if you would be willing to accept this invitation and if these arrangements are agreeable to you.

Dear Raffaele:

I did not manage to reach you on the telephone for a brief goodbye, and I now write to say how pleasant it was to see you on one or two occasions during your recent visit. I was particularly happy to find you looking so well and moving around so actively.

Also, I want to thank you, on behalf of Louie and myself (although she does not use it so it's principally on behalf of myself), for the excellent product of the vineyard of a member of your family. I will drink to your health with it.

These visits to the U.S.A. are helpful and worthwhile from my viewpoint, and especially because of the beneficial effect on the staff of I.F.C. From time to time I have slight conscience trouble at causing you to travel such long distances, but I argue with myself that this is a good thing for you because it brings you the new viewpoints which always come with a visit away from home. I also like to think it enables you and Carlo to cement your fine relationships with the banking community in New York.

Warmest regards, in which Louie joins.

Sincerely,

(Signed) George D. Woods

G. C. Wishart

India--Evaluation of Fourth Five-Year Plan, 1966-71

1. Mr. Woods had a meeting in his office at the Bank on October 6, 1965, at 5:15 p.m., with the following Indian officials: Mr. S. Bhoothalingam, Secretary, Ministry of Finance, Mr. I.G. Patel, Chief Economic Adviser, Mr. K.S.S. Rajan, Bank Executive Director and Mr. S. Guhan, Bank Alternate Executive Director. Mr. Woods was accompanied by Messrs. Wilson, Friedman, de Lattre, B. Bell, Stevenson and Wishart.

2. Mr. Woods opened the meeting by referring to a proposed Bank economic mission, to be headed by Mr. B. Bell, which would visit India during the fall of 1965 to evaluate the Indian Fourth Five-Year Plan. He understood that Mr. Bhoothalingam had already had discussions regarding the work and timing of the mission with Mr. Bell and the appropriate people in the Bank. Mr. Bhoothalingam said that these discussions had resulted in a clear and agreed program being arrived at. The time schedule for the evaluation mission would be a tight one but he was confident that, with the cooperation of all concerned in the Bank, the timing envisaged could be adhered to.

Mr. Bhoothalingam added that he and his colleagues had also had discussions with the Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund and that agreement had been reached on a program required by the IMF.

Mr. Woods then emphasized the underlying assumptions on which the 3. decision to send a Bank mission to evaluate the Fourth Plan had been reached. The Bank intended to continue to conduct its business with India on a basis as close to normal as possible. The Bank had adhered to this basis during the recent period when hostilities had broken out between India and Pakistan and before the "cease fire." Consequently, it was the Bank's intention to proceed with the evaluation of the Fourth Plan in a routine manner and without undue regard to recent happenings and the present condition of affairs. However, Mr. Woods said he must make it very clear that the Bank's evaluation of the Fourth Plan carried with it no implication as to the timing of the next meeting of the Indian Consortium, or even that further meetings of the Consortium would be held. If problems of a military or political nature influenced Consortium members to decide that they were unable to take part in further Consortium proceedings, then there was nothing that the Bank could do to alter that decision. While it would be unwise for the Bank to delay taking necessary steps to appraise the Fourth Plan in preparation for any further Consortium meetings, Mr. Woods wanted no misunderstanding on the point that the appraisal did not necessarily imply that future Consortium meetings will be held. Mr. Bhoothalingam assured Mr. Woods that it was fully understood by the authorities of the Government of India (GOI) that the holding of Consortium meetings is a matter for decision by the members of the Consortium.

4. Further discussion then took place regarding the timing for the mission to evaluate the Fourth Plan. Mr. Bhoothalingam advised that GOI has still to make certain decisions as to the content of the Plan and the Plan in its final form will probably not be ready until mid-November. He suggested that Mr. Bell and his colleagues should arrive in India around November 15. Mr. Bell said this was satisfactory to him--starting at that time it would be impossible to produce an evaluation report for submission to a Consortium meeting in January. Mr. Wilson added that any possible Consortium meeting would require to receive the documentation, including the evaluation report, about one month before the date set for any meeting of the Consortium.

Mr. Woods said he would like to add a further word regarding the 5. personal role of Mr. Bell. When Mr. Bell visits India in November, he will, to some extent, be wearing two hats. As already mentioned, he will be head of the mission to evaluate the Fourth Plan. At the same time, he will be continuing in his capacity as head of the mission which prepared a report on the Indian economy for the personal information of the President of the World Bank. A draft of the main section of the latter personal report was already in the hands of GOI, together with four out of the nine sector appendices. It was Mr. Woods's understanding that GOI is in sympathy with the main recommendations brought out in that personal report to him from Mr. Bell and his team. Mr. Bhoothalingam confirmed that this is so. When the Fourth Plan is submitted, the Bank would find that certain of the recommendations contained in Mr. Bell's report were reflected in proposed action under the Plan. In addition, GOI would be submitting to Consortium members with the Fourth Plan an accompanying memorandum, which would deal with further recommendations contained in the Bell report and indicate the lines GOI intends to follow. Certain decisions had still to be taken by GOI and Mr. Bhoothalingam hoped that these would be taken in time for full details to be included in that memorandum.

6. Mr. de Lattre hoped that in the Plan, or the accompanying memorandum, there would be a careful evaluation of the cost of liberalizing import controls. As program aid (as distinct from project financing) is being requested to enable the liberalization program to go forward, a good case must be prepared and that case must be persuasive. In addition, Mr. de Lattre hoped that all the points raised in the Bell report would be covered, such as the need to encourage tourism, etc. Mr. Bhoothalingam agreed and said that it was the intention to have all matters fully covered in the Plan or in the accompanying memorandum. In addition, there might be a further letter, which would have restricted circulation, setting out the more confidential undertakings and intentions of GOI.

7. In summing up this part of the discussion, Mr. Woods urged again that GOI in no way gives out the impression that the date for a further meeting of the Consortium had been agreed or promised. GOI is aware of the views of certain of the important members of the Consortium and it would be unrealistic for GOI to expect a further Consortium meeting unless the present situation changed. Mr. Bhoothalingam said he entirely understood.

8. Before the meeting broke up, Mr. Woods said that he would like to consider with Mr. Bhoothalingam what more the Bank could do, at the present time, to live up to the Bank's intention to carry on business with India as close to normal as possible. Mr. Stevenson listed the projects which are already well advanced and which might be processed to the Bank/IDA Boards in the near future. These are the Indian Iron and Steel Company project, the Koyna hydroelectric power project and the Bangalore water project. In addition, there would be a mission going out to India to study transportation requirements.

9. Mr. Patel asked whether the Bank could not assist India in meeting its immediate fertilizer needs. Mr. Woods said that he was deeply disappointed at the delays which had occurred over the past five years in pushing on with the fertilizer projects which India so badly needs. He was not prepared to even indirectly encourage further delays by assisting in the finance of purchase of fertilizers. He would, however, be willing to cooperate to the extent of saying that the Bank would consider financing the interim purchase of fertilizers for distribution and use in anticipation of production in new projects, as soon as such new projects are financed and are clearly started on their construction period of two years. A discussion then took place as to the new fertilizer projects which are under active preparation in India and the following projects were mentioned:

KANPURSponsored by Imperial Chemicals Industries through their associated company, Indian Explosives. ICI has had some preliminary discussions with IFC about this project.KOTHACUDEK KOTHAGUDEMSponsored by Allied Chemicals.GOASponsored by the Birla Company--understood that IFC had been approached regarding this project. Foreign partner ARMOUR of United States.MADRASForeign partner is believed to be a subsidiary of Standard Oil of Indiana.

10. Mr. Woods said that in respect of these new projects, the Bank might be prepared to help bridge the gap until their fertilizer production is available. It would be essential to have a list of the projects with a full description of their status. Mr. Patel stated this information was already in preparation and Mr. Bhoothalingam promised to give it to Mr. Stevenson. (It was agreed later with Mr. Patel that he would spend a day in Washington at the conclusion of his New York visit to discuss this matter further with Mr. Stevenson.)

Lt. Col. E. A. Royce, E.D. The Empire Club of Canada, Inc. 455 King Street West Toronto 2B, Ontario Canada

Dear Colonel Royce:

Please excuse my seeming delay in replying personally to your letter of August 4, containing your invitation to be a luncheon speaker at a meeting of The Empire Club of Canada during the 1965/66 season. I was out of the country when your letter arrived, but an interim acknowledgment was sent to you by my office on August 12. Since my return to Washington, I have been heavily engaged with preparations for, and the proceedings at, the Annual Governors' Meetings of the World Bank Group.

I am appreciative of your invitation and the fact that you have so kindly asked me once again to address The Empire Club. As you will know, the World Bank made a bond issue in Canada in March 1965 and it is certainly my hope and intention to keep in close touch with Canadian public opinion which has evidenced its support of this institution. The Bank is planning to make further bond issues in Genada under the auspices of a leading group of Canadian underwriters, and we are in process of inviting these gentlemen, accompanied by some of the major Canadian professional investors, to visit Washington in November of this year to become more fully acquainted with the Bank, its proceduras and methods of operation. Probably in December 1965 and again in January 1966, I expect I may visit both Toronto and Montreal for further meetings with the professional investors in these centers, including the banks, insurance companies and security dealers.

With such a program ahead of me, I em afraid that I have no alternative but to decline your invitation to address The Empire Club of Canada during its 1965/66 season. As you will appreciate, the schedule I have indicated to you above will involve me in a number of addresses to a selected body of Canadian professional investors and I would run the risk of overexposure if I undertook, in addition, to address The Empire Club. I am sure that you will appreciate my position and understand my reasons for this decision.

I take this opportunity of sending to you personally, and to all the members of The Empire Club of Canada, my best personal good wishes.

Sincerely,

(Signed) George D. Woods

Dear David:

This is a belated note to say thank you very much for the opportunity of being with you at an exceedingly pleasant luncheon party last Sunday.

As it broke up, you were hurrying in one direction to catch a plane and I was hurrying in another to return to Washington, with a result that I did not have the opportunity of shaking hands, although I did say goodbye to Peggy. I am sure these luncheons are worthwhile from the standpoint of your Bank, and for the visitors from abroad who are fortunate enough to be included, they represent a pleasant occasion after the termination of the Governors' Meetings.

Whenever you are in Washington with some free time I would be delighted to see you.

Dear Chief Festus:

I have dictated the enclosed memorandum of our conversation last week. I believe it is an accurate statement of the substance of our discussion, but if you have any comment I would be glad to have it.

It was indeed a great pleasure to see you on several occasions during the week you were in Washington--particularly on the occasion of executing the two loan agreements. I appreciated your preliminary comments about the draft economic report by the Avramovic group. They worked hard to meet the time schedule which you and I talked about last June. However, sometimes the things which we have to do under pressure turn out to be our best and most effective efforts and perhaps that is the case with this report.

Your letter of October 1, transmitting the communication to Mr. Schweitzer and myself, has arrived. I congratulate you on your designation as Chairman of the Caucus of African Covernors--I think they made a good choice. A coordinated response will go forward to you in due course.

May I say that Mrs. Woods and I were delighted to see you in such good health, and she joins me in sending warm personal regards and best wishes.

Cordially yours,

(Signed) George D. Woods

1. In a conversation held in my temporary office at the Sheraton-Park Hotel on October 1, Chief Festus S. I read aloud the key paragraph in my letter, which was confirmed in his letter.

2. We agreed that upon completion of James Raj's tour of duty the management of NIDB should be Nigerianized.

3. We agreed that for a period of time--not fixed--NIDB should have a non-Nigerian adviser, who would be recommended to the Board of Directors by the World Bank group.

4. Chief Festus expressed the desire to continue to be informed regarding NIDE matters, including investments and staffing. He expects to be in communication with the adviser from time to time for the purpose of expressing the viewpoints of the Government of Nigeria on these matters. It was understood that this was not to involve obtaining Government approval of investments before they were made. With respect to staff, Chief Festus stated that the Government viewpoints would reflect the basic desire to have all regions and groups of the country benefited from the activities of NIDE.

Dear Mr. Deguafe:

I have just received your letter of September 17 in which you kindly invite me to attend the inauguration of the new head office building for the National Bank of Ethiopia and the Commercial Bank of Ethiopia in Addis Ababa on November 2, 1965. Owing to previous commitments, I regret that I shall not be able to visit Ethiopia for this ceremony.

I take this opportunity, however, of sending to the Boards of the National Bank of Ethiopia and the Commercial Bank of Ethiopia, to you as General Manager of the Commercial Bank and to all staff my best wishes. The inauguration ceremony, to be performed by His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Ethiopia will, I am sure, be a fineand impressive occasion.

Nam Ngum Project

Referring to the Nam Ngum Project, I talked to Gene Black. He tells me that the United States Government "has the ball" in the matter of money raising. Of the approximately $28 million estimated requirement, $10 million has been raised from others than the United States, leaving Sk million to go--on the assumption the U.S. will limit its participation to 50%. There is considerable difficulty about having the money pledged on an "untied" basis but this is gradually being accomplished. Mr. Black says that the money-raising has turned out to be much tougher than had been anticipated but he still thinks it will be raised.

I brought up the subject of pledges to take care of any over-run. Mr. Black was aware of this point and said he thought that at the proper time this could and would be arranged. I did not press the point further as I can sympathize with the problem of talking about "guarantee of completion" before the cost as initially estimated is provided.

Incidentally, he stated that the meeting held yesterday was reported to him as having been a good one and having been well run by Mr. Cargill.

Recreational Facilities

I refer to our luncheon discussion on July 27, and your memorandum of August 2, on the subject of "Recreational Facilities" and, more particularly, to the suggestion in the last paragraph of the memorandum which suggests a "joint working committee."

The possibility that I would be willing to recommend to our Executive Directors participation by the Bank in such a facility is so remote that I do not think it advisable to accept the joint working committee suggestion. Participation in such an activity inevitably suggests that a possibility of ultimate involvement in such a project exists. Inasmuch as this is not the case, I would prefer that the Bank be dropped from all considerations and discussions between the Fund and the Inter-American Development Bank which may be carried on.

I am most appreciative of the invitation, contained in the letter dated September 24 from you, Senator Tower and Congressman Gonzalez, to participate as a member of the Advisory Commission for HemisFair 1968. The theme of HemisFair 1968 is indeed an inspiring one, and the proposed site for the international exposition, San Antonio Texas, is a happy choice in view of that city's 250th anniversary. I certainly wish the project all success.

Regretfully, I must decline your invitation to be a member of the Advisory Commission. I am sure you will appreciate that my duties as President of the World Bank are such that it is not possible for me to take part.

My dear Mr. President:

Thank you very much for taking the time last Friday to address the Governors of the World Bank and the Monetary Fund, and thank you particularly for your warm welcome to the one hundred or so finance ministers and central bank governors who were present.

Your talk was the high point of the week, and its timing-on the closing day-was just right. Every one of the Covernors who spoke to me on departing, and most of them did, expressed great satisfaction with what you had to say about the monetary questions which are being studied and explored, about the problems of financing long-range development in the poor countries, and especially about the critical need to do more about education in these areas. The universal feeling was that the Chief of State of the world's wealthiest country understood clearly the troubles that exist elsewhere; was cognizant of the efforts to do something about them, and felt deeply that their efforts were of prime importance for the future of all humanity. It gave the Finance Ministers and others (who are also the Governors of the Bank and the Monetary Fund) a great lift and sent them home with renewed energy and enthusiasm. May I add that it did the same for me.

With warm appreciation,

Faithfully yours.

Dear Mr. Neutra:

Your letter of September 25 was sent on to me at my temporary office quarters in the Sheraton Park Hotel, where the Annual Governors' Meetings of the World Bank group and the International Monetary Fund are being held, and received by me on September 27. As you will appreciate, this period of our Governors' Meetings is a very busy one for me, requiring my attendance on the platform during all the open sessions dealing with World Bank business. In addition, a number of private meetings are scheduled with delegates from our member countries who attend the Governors' Meetings. All these commitments had been made well in advance and I regret I was unable to rearrange my schedule in order to have a meeting with you.

In an endeavour to accommodate you during your brief visit to Washington, I asked Mr. Alexander Stevenson, Director of the World Bank South Asia Department, to get in touch with you. He telephoned the Hotel Graylyn on two occasions but I understand you did not receive his messages. On receipt of your further telephone call, I instructed my Personal Assistant, Mr. G. C. Wishart, to telephone and explain the position to you. I understand that, after you had spoken to Mr. Wishart, you were able to reach Mr. Stevenson and to have a talk with him.

I am sorry that I was unable to meet with you on this occasion. At some other mutually convenient time, when you are to be in the United States, I shall be glad to have a visit with you to discuss matters of common interest. I also understand that there is a possibility that you will telephone me from New York, possibly around 9 a.m. on Thursday, October 7, and, if you manage to do so, I shall be glad to hear from you.

With best wishes,

Sincerely.
