The World Bank and the Government of Nepal, in technical partnership with the World Meteorological Organization (WMO), are co-hosting the second South Asia Hydromet Forum (SAHF II), following the inaugural SAHF in Geneva in 2018. This Forum is not possible without the commitments and engagement of its members, particularly the leadership and representatives of National Meteorological and Hydrological Services agencies and the representatives of key user sectors from the countries of South Asia – Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka. We thank the Permanent Representatives to the WMO as well as other delegates from these countries, without whose efforts regional collaboration would not be possible.

We would like to recognize the generous financial support of the United Kingdom's Department for International Development (DFID) through their Asia Regional Resilience to a Changing Climate Program (ARRCC) and the European Union (EU) through the Global Facility for Disaster Risk Reduction (GFDRR).

The collaboration between the World Bank and the Government of Nepal underpins the second SAHF event and the organizing team appreciates the support and contributions provided by the Ministry of Energy, Water Resources and Irrigation, in particular the commitment of: Mr. Barshaman Pun "Ananta," Honorable Minister; Mr. Rabindranath Shrestha, Secretary; Mr. Ram Gopal Kharbujia, Joint Secretary; Mr. Saraju Kumar Baidya, Director General, Department of Hydrology and Meteorology; Dr. Jagadishwor Karmacharya, Deputy Director General, Department of Hydrology and Meteorology.

Special thanks are also owed to the Regional Integrated Multi-Hazard Early Warning System for Africa and Asia (RIMES), including Dr. A. R. Subbiah and Dr. G. Srinivasan as well as to WMO, especially Markus Repnik, Director of Development Partnerships; Abdoulaye Harou, Chief, Data Processing and Forecasting Systems and; Lorena Santamaria, Programme Officer.

The Forum could not have been developed without the guidance and support of World Bank management and our advisors. We thank in particular: Hart Schafer, Vice President, South Asia Region; John Roome, Regional Director, South Asia Region; Christoph Pusch, Practice Manager, South Asia Climate and Disaster Risk Management; Julie Dana, Practice Manager, GFDRR; and Faris H. Hadad-Zervos, Country Manager, Nepal; as well as our expert advisory group: Vladimir Tsirkunov, Lead Specialist, GFDRR and; David Rogers, Laxman Singh Rathore, Alice Soares, Gerald Fleming, SAHF International Advisors.
