

Internship # 3 - Support to Agriculture Team in Brazil
Agriculture Global Practice
Location: Brazil Country Office

Background

The LCR Inclusive Internship Program is designed to introduce a diverse and inclusive group of qualified graduate students to the World Bank (WB) by offering hands-on opportunities to contribute to development work in the Latin American and Caribbean region. Selected candidates will be able to improve their own skills in a diverse environment dedicated to ending extreme poverty and boosting prosperity and will benefit from:

- (i) opportunities for onboarding and training;
- (ii) networking, mentoring, and coaching from World Bank staff and
- (iii) being a part of one of the most reputable development banks in the world.

The LCR Inclusive Internship program is targeted to highly motivated and qualified individuals from Afro descendants, indigenous People and other minorities.

The World Bank Group's Agriculture Global Practice (AgGP) brings together a multidisciplinary team to tackle our clients' complex development problems in agriculture, especially those that require multi-sector, multi-stakeholder solutions.

Objective and Scope of Work

The intern will support the World Bank Agriculture Team in Brazil on the analysis of Carta-Consulta documentation elaborated by State Governments, in preparation for project identification and appraisal. The intern will also work, to the extent possible, on realigning agriculture development objectives with climate, renewable energy, food, energy and water security objectives. The responsibilities of the intern will include, but will not be limited to, the following:

1. Support the Agriculture Team in the review of newly prepared Carta Consulta documents, and in particular the extent to which they comply with the points and criteria of the evaluation matrix of COFLEX Resolution n. 19, of June 2021;
2. Prepare a summary of the key agriculture, climate, renewable energy, food, energy and water security policies at state and federal level to strengthen the institutional aspects and sustainability parts of the Carta-Consultas;
3. Help liaise with technical teams of the Bank and Client for organization of meetings, including minutes and follow-up action reporting;
4. Perform ad hoc tasks as may be assigned.

Qualification Requirements

- Minimum of a Bachelor’s degree in economics, agricultural economics, statistics, public policy or related field, currently enrolled in a graduate level program and 30 years old or younger.
- Should have a strong interest in and commitment to agriculture development;
- At least 1-2 years of relevant work experience (may include previous job positions, paid or unpaid internships and volunteer work)
- Fluent verbal and written communication skills in English and Portuguese;
- Experience with and/or interest in climate, renewable energy, food, energy and water security will be an asset.

Deliverables and delivery schedule

The intern will report to Leonardo Bichara, Senior Agriculture Economist in the Brazil office. Deliverables would correspond to the above scope of work. The work is expected to commence on/around September 1 and will last until February 28, 2023. The intern will be hired through the LCR Inclusive Internship Program.
