

Citi And George Washington University's Global Food Security Symposium - October 11, 2022.

World Bank U.S. Executive Director Dr. Adriana Kugler

During this panel event, Dr. Kugler discussed key topics relevant to the current global food security crisis. She stressed the importance of balancing short-term interventions with longer-term investments to strengthen food systems, discussed considerations around agricultural subsidy reform, and highlighted the World Bank's robust response to help mitigate rising food insecurity.