IDA, an international organization owned by its 174 member countries, is one of the five institutions of the World Bank Group (WBG[1]). Each WBG organization is legally and financially independent from IDA, with separate assets and liabilities. IDA is not liable for the obligations of the other institutions.

IDA's mission is to end extreme poverty and boost shared prosperity on a livable planet. With its many years of experience and its depth of knowledge in international development, IDA plays a key role in achieving the WBG's goal of helping client countries achieve better development outcomes with a vision to create a world free of poverty on a livable planet. IDA provides loans, grants, guarantees, and other financial products to the poorest and most vulnerable countries to help meet their development needs, and technical assistance and policy advice by leveraging its experience and expertise. It also supports countries with disaster risk financing and insurance against natural disasters and health-related crises and facilitates financing through trust fund partnerships.

IDA and its affiliated organizations seek to help countries in reducing poverty and inequality, achieve improvements in economic growth, job creation, governance, the environment, climate adaptation, mitigation and resilience, human capital, infrastructure and debt transparency, among others. To meet its development goals, the WBG supports client countries' efforts to implement programs to improve growth and development outcomes. Further, new and ongoing challenges continue to influence the global outlook. These include high inflation, the rise in food insecurity, growing inequality, global fragility, pandemic risk, armed conflicts and other geopolitical events, rising debt, climate change, and macroeconomic imbalances. In response, IDA continues to work with partners at global and country levels to support its borrowing countries in addressing the impact of these multiple crises, to enhance resilience, and lay the groundwork for rebuilding better. To further enhance these efforts, the Board and Management have been working on an Evolution Roadmap for the WBG to better address the scale of development challenges. As part of this evolution, in October 2023, the Board of Governors endorsed the new vision and mission, and initiatives to increase impact, modernize the approach to delivery and increase financing capacity.

[1] The other WBG institutions are the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID). The World Bank consists of IBRD and IDA.

Summary of Financial Results

Net Income and Adjusted Net Income

Net Income: IDA reported a net loss of $2,317 million in FY24 YTD, compared to a net loss of $1,749 million for the six months ended December 31, 2022 (FY23 YTD). The higher net loss was primarily driven by the increase in development grant expenses. See Section IV: Financial Results.

Adjusted Net Income: IDA's adjusted net income was $2 million in FY24 YTD compared to $82 million in FY23 YTD. The decrease was primarily due to higher borrowing expenses and higher provision expense for losses on loans and other exposures, partially offset by higher net interest revenue on investments and loans. See Section IV: Financial Results.

In millions of U.S. dollars

Loans and grants

IDA's net commitments in FY24 YTD were $14.8 billion, $1.0 billion lower than FY23 YTD. Out of the total net commitments, $10.5 billion were loan commitments and $4.3 billion were grant commitments. FY23 YTD net loan commitments included $1.2 billion approved under the IDA19 envelope due to the extension of the closing date for the approval of IDA19 operations.

IDA's net loans outstanding increased by $6.6 billion to $194.3 billion as of December 31, 2023, from $187.7 billion as of June 30, 2023. The increase was primarily due to net loan disbursements during the period. See Section IV: Financial Results.

Development grant expenses were $2.7 billion in FY24 YTD compared to $2.1 billion in FY23 YTD due to higher disbursements of conditional grants in FY24 YTD.

In billions of U.S. dollars

a. Includes loans, grants and guarantees.

Net Investment Portfolio

As of December 31, 2023, the net investment portfolio was $31.9 billion, an increase of $1.2 billion from June 30, 2023. The increase was driven by net cash inflows from new issuances of debt, partially offset by net cash outflows from loan and grant disbursements during the period. See Section IV: Financial Results. The primary objective of IDA's investment strategy is principal protection. As of December 31, 2023, 71% of IDA's investment portfolio was held in instruments rated AA or above (78% as of June 30, 2023) (Table 13).

Borrowing Portfolio

Market borrowings at fair value: As of December 31, 2023, the market borrowings carried at fair value and the related derivatives were $26.1 billion, an increase of $6.5 billion from June 30, 2023 primarily due to net new issuances during the period.

Market borrowings at amortized cost: As of December 31, 2023, the market borrowings carried at amortized cost were $9.5 billion, an increase of $0.9 billion from June 30, 2023  primarily due to net new issuances during the period. .

Concessional Partner Loans at amortized cost: As of December 31, 2023, total borrowings from members - Concessional Partner Loans (CPL) were $7.4 billion, an increase of $0.2 billion from June 30, 2023.

See Section IV: Financial Results.

Equity and Capital Adequacy

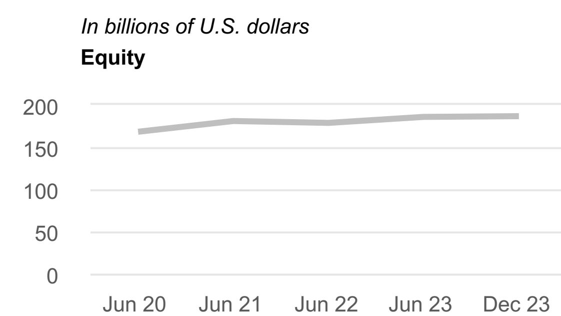
As of December 31, 2023, IDA's equity was $186.6 billion, an increase of $0.8 billion from June 30, 2023. The increase was primarily due to subscriptions and contributions paid in during the period and currency translation gains as the SDR appreciated against the U.S. dollar, partially offset by the net loss during the period. See Section IV: Financial Results.



The Deployable Strategic Capital (DSC) ratio, IDA's main capital adequacy measure, was 20.5% as of December 31, 2023, above the zero percent policy minimum and a decrease of 3.6 percentage points from 24.1% as of June 30, 2023. The decrease was mainly due to the increase in total resources required. See Section V: Risk Management.

Section II: Overview

IDA Replenishment

Generally, every three years, representatives of IDA's members[2] meet to assess IDA's financial capacity and the medium-term demand for new IDA financing. Members decide on the policy framework, agree on the amount of financing to be made available for the replenishment period, and commit to additional contributions of equity that are required to meet these goals. The meetings culminate in a replenishment agreement that determines the size, sources (both internal and external), and uses of funds for the replenishment period.

Twentieth Replenishment of Resources (IDA20)

IDA's Twentieth Replenishment (IDA20), with the replenishment period of FY23 through FY25, commenced on July 1, 2022, with a financing envelope of $93.0 billion[3], including $11.0 billion of IDA19 carry over, supported by $23.5 billion of member contributions. IDA20 recognizes the need to help address the profound challenges faced by IDA countries. IDA20 reaffirms the international community's commitment to scale up support to enable IDA countries to respond to the effects of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic crisis, recoup their development losses, and resume progress toward the 2030 Sustainable Development goals. IDA20 supports the world's poorest and most vulnerable countries to emerge on a development path in line with the Green, Resilient and Inclusive Development (GRID) framework. IDA20 builds on the IDA19 special themes, with the continuation of climate change, fragility, conflict, and violence (FCV), gender and development, jobs and economic transformation and the introduction of human capital as a special theme. In addition, IDA20's policy package incorporates four crosscutting issues: crisis preparedness (introduced in IDA20), governance and institutions, debt, and technology.

IDA Crisis Facility

On July 5, 2023, IDA's Board of Governors adopted a Resolution to establish a Crisis Facility to scale up support for the world's poorest countries to address worsening development challenges due to the overlapping global crises, particularly food insecurity and extreme climate events. The Crisis Facility has two objectives: i) to provide additional resources to IDA countries affected by Russia's invasion of Ukraine at a time of compounding, overlapping global crises; and ii) to provide a mechanism for pooling and leveraging contributions to support Ukraine, and to neighboring Moldova. This facility will be supported by member contributions and enhance IDA's financing capacity in addition to IDA20. As of December 31, 2023, $309 million of member contributions had been received by the facility.

Financial Business Model

IDA has financed its operations over the years with its own equity, including regular additions to equity provided by member countries as part of the replenishment process. As a result of the strong support from member countries, IDA has built up a substantial equity base of $186.6 billion as of December 31, 2023. Since FY18, IDA has shifted to a hybrid financial model by introducing market debt into its business model. By prudently leveraging its equity and blending market debt with equity contributions from members, IDA has increased its financial efficiency, and scaled up its financing to support the escalating demand for its resources to deliver on the following priorities:

- Provide concessional financing on terms that respond to clients' needs; and
- Ensure long-term financial sustainability of IDA's financial model through a prudent risk management framework.

Currently, IDA's non-concessional and concessional lending, including grants, is primarily financed by IDA's equity. As IDA's funding program expands under the hybrid financing model, a larger portion of lending will be funded by market debt, together with member countries' contributions (equity). Funds not deployed for lending are maintained in IDA's investment portfolio to supply liquidity for its operations.

[2] IDA's members are owners and hold voting rights in IDA. Members do not, however, hold shares in IDA and are therefore not referred to as shareholders. Payments for subscriptions and contributions from members increase IDA's paid-in equity and are financially equivalent to paid-in capital in multilateral development organizations that issue shares.

[3] U.S. dollar amounts are based on IDA20 reference rate of USD/SDR 1.42934. The U.S. dollar amounts are provided for reporting purposes only, as IDA's balance sheet is predominantly managed in SDR.

Basis of Reporting

IDA prepares its financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP). IDA's reporting currency is the U.S. dollar. IDA's functional currencies are the SDR and its component currencies of the U.S. dollar, euro, Japanese yen, pound sterling and Chinese renminbi. Management uses net income as the basis for deriving adjusted net income, as discussed in Section IV: Financial Results.

Adjusted Net Income

Adjusted Net Income (ANI), a non-GAAP measure, reflects the economic results of IDA's operations and is used by IDA's management and the Board as a financial sustainability measure. ANI is defined as IDA's net income, adjusted to exclude certain items. After the effects of these adjustments, the resulting ANI generally reflects amounts which are realized, not restricted for specific uses, and not directly funded by members. For a detailed discussion of the adjustments, see IDA's MD&A for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, Section IV: Financial Results.

Section III: IDA's Financial Resources

IDA20 Funding

IDA's financing resource envelope available for lending and grant commitments is based on the long-term outlook of IDA's financial sustainability. This takes into account the amount of member contributions and the concessionality of the proposed financing to borrowers, market conditions, and capital adequacy requirements.

Allocation of IDA20 Resources

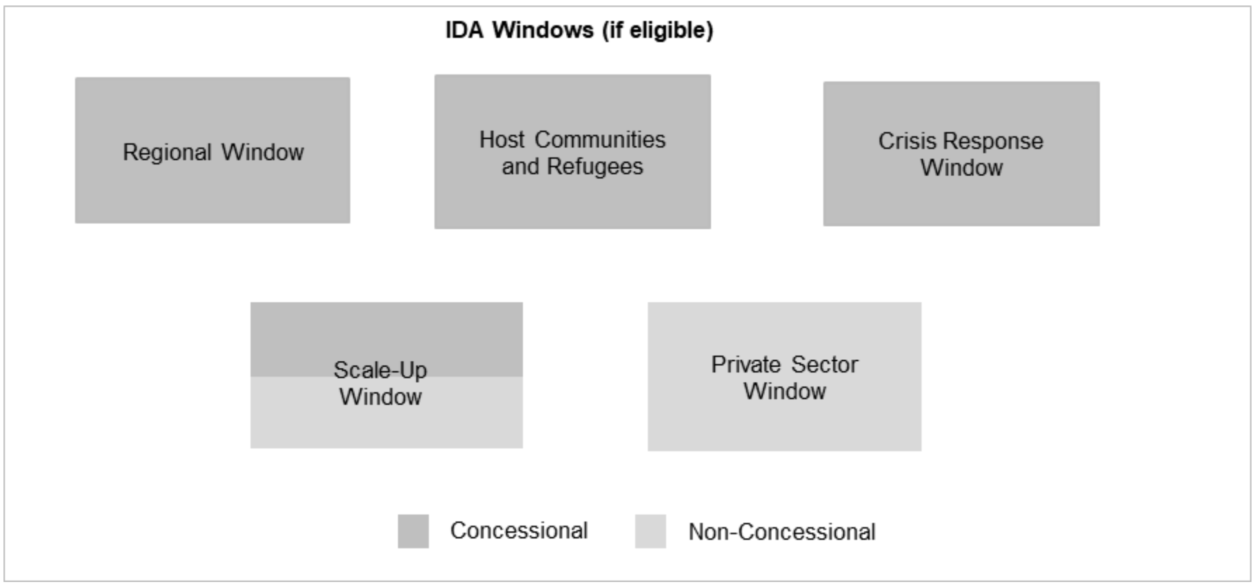
IDA financing is provided in the form of loans, grants, and guarantees. Most of IDA's resources are allocated to eligible members through IDA Country Allocations that provide unearmarked support. The allocation framework is agreed for each replenishment cycle. IDA Country Allocations are determined using the Performance Based Allocation (PBA) system, which takes into account the country's performance rating (CPR), population size and per capita income, and complemented by the FCV envelope. The rest of IDA resources are provided through five IDA Windows dedicated to addressing specific development priorities, and an Arrears Clearance framework that provides exceptional support for countries to fully reengage with the World Bank.

IDA responds to specific needs of its members through the following five IDA Windows:



Eligibility and the percentage of allocation of grants for IDA-only countries are based on an assessment of the country's risk of debt distress, where countries, including IDA-only Small States, with high risk of debt distress, or in debt distress, receive their IDA assistance in grants. IDA-only Small States at moderate risk of debt distress continue to receive half of their IDA20 allocation in grants and half in loans. Gap and Blend countries are only eligible for grant financing through the Window for Host Communities and Refugees, if applicable.

As part of IDA's balance sheet optimization measures, two new financing terms were introduced in IDA20 which carry no interest or service charges: a) Concessional Shorter-Maturity Loans (SMLs); and b) 50-year loans. In addition, starting from IDA20, borrowers are allowed to convert their concessional borrowing into one of the SDR component currencies or non-SDR local currency terms, subject to market availability.

Private Sector Window

The IDA-IFC-MIGA Private Sector Window was created under IDA18 to mobilize private sector investment in IDA-only countries and IDA-eligible Fragile and Conflict-affected Situations. Under IDA20, $2.5 billion has been allocated to PSW, bringing the cumulative total allocation to $5.5 billion. As of December 31, 2023, $1.8 billion had been utilized out of a combined total of $4.6 billion committed in IDA18 through IDA20.

Financial Results and Portfolio Performance

Net Income

IDA's net loss was $2,317 million in FY24 YTD compared with a net loss of $1,749 million in FY23 YTD (Table 3). The higher net loss was primarily driven by an increase of $558 million in development grant expenses.

Adjusted Net Income

IDA's adjusted net income was $2 million in FY24 YTD compared with $82 million in FY23 YTD (Table 3). The decrease was primarily driven by:

- An increase of $376 million in borrowing expenses, excluding amortization of discount on CPL, as a result of the increase in interest rates in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD;
- An increase of $332 million in provision expense for losses on loans and other exposures, excluding the provision expense for Heavily Indebted Poor Countries Debt Initiative (HIPC)/Multilateral Debt Relief Initiative (MDRI) and grant advances. This increase was mainly attributable to the provision expense for loans to Niger in FY24 YTD as all loans made to Niger were placed into nonaccrual status effective February 2, 2024, and higher exposures during the period; partially offset by;
- An increase of $247 million in net interest revenue on investments as a result of higher interest rates in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD;
- An increase of $240 million in unrealized mark-to-market gains on investment-trading portfolio, excluding IDA's share of returns from PEBP and PCRF, mainly driven by gains from the EUR denominated bonds due to the decrease in yield curves in FY24 YTD;
- An increase of $214 million in net interest revenue from loans due to the higher average balance and the increase in interest rates on non-concessional loans in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD.

The main drivers for the movements in the Balance Sheets as of December 31, 2023 are as follows:

- An increase in net loans outstanding due to net loan disbursements and currency translation gains during the period;
- An increase in borrowings due to net new issuances during the period;
- A decrease in other liabilities mainly driven by a decrease in payable for investment securities purchased during the period.

Results from Financing Activities

Loan Portfolio and Grant Activity

As of December 31, 2023, net loans outstanding were $194.3 billion, $6.6 billion higher compared with June 30, 2023. The increase was mainly due to net disbursements of $5.1 billion, and currency translation gains of $1.8 billion, consistent with the 0.9% appreciation of the SDR against the U.S. dollar during the six month period ended December 31, 2023.

As of December 31, 2023, 82% of IDA's loans outstanding were denominated in SDR. For the regional presentation of loans outstanding, see Notes to the Condensed Quarterly Financial Statements for the period ended December 31, 2023, Note D – Loans and Other Exposures – Table D5.

During FY24 YTD, net loan commitments were lower by $1.3 billion compared with FY23 YTD. There were no guarantee commitments in either FY24 YTD or FY23 YTD. FY23 YTD net loan commitments included $1.2 billion approved under the IDA19 envelope due to the extension of the closing date for the approval of IDA19 operations.

As of December 31, 2023, 54% of loans outstanding were on regular terms (75 basis points SDR equivalent service charge) (Table 8). For a summary of financial terms for IDA's lending products, refer to IDA's MD&A for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, Section V: Development Activities, Products and Programs.

The increase in IDA's revenue on loans in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD was primarily due to the higher average balances of loans outstanding, and the increase in interest rates on non-concessional loans in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD.

Provision for losses on loans and other exposures

In FY24 YTD, IDA recorded a provision expense for losses on loans and other exposures of $543 million compared to a provision expense of $235 million in FY23 YTD. The increase was primarily due to the provision expense for loans to Niger in FY24 YTD as all loans made to Niger were placed into nonaccrual status effective February 2, 2024, and the increase in exposure in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD. For adjusted net income purposes, the provision expense for losses on loans and other exposures excludes the provision for debt relief under HIPC/MDRI and the provision for grant advances, since these are funded by contributions from members.

Results from Investing Activities

Investment Portfolio

IDA's net investment portfolio was $31.9 billion as of December 31, 2023, an increase of $1.2 billion from June 30, 2023. The increase was driven by net cash inflows from new issuances of debt, partially offset by net loan and grant disbursements during the period. See Notes to the Condensed Quarterly Financial Statements for the period ended December 31, 2023, Note C – Investments.

Investment interest revenue, net of derivatives

During FY24 YTD, IDA's net investment interest revenue was $652 million, an increase of $247 million compared with the same period in FY23. The increase was mainly driven by the higher average interest rates in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD.

Unrealized mark-to-market gains (losses) on investments-trading portfolio, net

During FY24 YTD, IDA's investments-trading portfolio, excluding IDA's share of returns from PEBP and PCRF, had unrealized mark-to-market gains of $139 million, compared to $101 million of unrealized mark-to-market losses in FY23 YTD. The unrealized mark-to-market gains in FY24 YTD were due to the decrease in yield curves of EUR denominated bonds compared to an increase in yield curves in FY23 YTD.

Results from Borrowing Activities

As of December 31, 2023, the fair value of the market borrowing portfolio was $26.1 billion, an increase of $6.5 billion compared to June 30, 2023. The increase was mainly due to the net new issuances during the period.

As of December 31, 2023, the market borrowings recorded at amortized cost were $9.5 billion, an increase of $0.9 billion from June 30, 2023. The increase was mainly due to the net new issuances during the period.

Concessional partner loans from members recorded at amortized cost were $7.4 billion as of December 31, 2023, an increase of $0.2 billion from June 30, 2023.

During FY24 YTD, IDA's borrowing expenses, net of derivatives, was $747 million, an increase of $380 million compared with the same period in FY23. The increase in borrowing expenses was primarily due to the increase in average interest rates in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD.

Transfers from Affiliated Organizations

Since 1964, IBRD has made transfers to IDA out of its net income, upon approval by the Board of Governors. Under a formula-based approach for IBRD's income support to IDA, the amount of income transfer recommended for IDA is a function of IBRD's financial results. On October 13, 2023, IBRD's Board of Governors approved a transfer of $291 million from FY23 allocable income to IDA which was received by IDA on October 24, 2023. The transfer was recorded in the Transfers from affiliated organizations and others line in the Condensed Statements of Income.

Net Non-Interest Expenses

IDA's net non-interest expenses are primarily comprised of administrative expenses, net of revenue from externally funded activities. IBRD and IDA's administrative budget is a single resource envelope that funds the combined work programs of both entities. The allocation of administrative expenses between IBRD and IDA is based on an agreed cost and revenue sharing methodology, approved by their Boards. The allocation is primarily driven by the relative level of activities relating to lending, knowledge services and other services between the two institutions. The administrative expenses shown in the table below include costs related to IDA-executed trust funds and other externally funded activities.

The decrease in net non-interest expenses from FY23 YTD to FY24 YTD, on a U.S. GAAP basis, was primarily due to the decrease in pension costs and higher revenue from externally funded activities, partially offset by higher staff costs and travel expenses. The decrease in pension costs was mainly driven by the higher pension discount rates, which resulted in lower service cost in FY24. On an adjusted net income basis, net non-interest expense for FY24 YTD increased primarily due to higher staff costs and higher travel expenses (Table 9).

During FY24 YTD, IDA's net other expenses were $6 million compared to $21 million net other revenue in FY23 YTD. The change was due to higher PPA grant expenses, net of cancellations and conversion of previously approved PPA grants into loans. Converted PPA grants are included in loans outstanding provided to the borrower, and correspondingly, prior grant expenses are reversed.

Unrealized mark-to-market gains (losses) on non-trading portfolios, net

During FY24 YTD, the non-trading portfolios had $162 million net unrealized mark-to-market gains ($174 million of net unrealized mark-to-market gains in FY23 YTD). The decrease was mainly driven by unrealized mark-to-market losses on derivatives related to non-concessional loans primarily due to the decrease in EUR interest rates in FY24 YTD compared to FY23 YTD. These derivatives are used to convert non-concessional loans from fixed-rate to variable-rate instruments for asset-liability management purposes.

Non-functional currency translation adjustment gains (losses), net

Non-functional currency translation adjustment gains or losses represent unrealized exchange rate gains or losses resulting from the economic hedging of exchange rate risk related to future donor contributions, borrowings, and all other assets and liabilities held on IDA's Balance Sheets, that are denominated in currencies other than the SDR and its component currencies. The translation adjustment losses in FY24 YTD and FY23 YTD were primarily driven by the hedging of exchange rate risk related to future donor contributions. Certain members pledge their future equity contributions in non-SDR currencies. These future cash flows are economically hedged using currency forwards. The economic offset is inherent in the future contribution inflows. The payable portion of the currency forward contracts are denominated in non-functional currencies. The depreciation or appreciation of these currencies against the U.S. dollar results in exchange rate gains or losses which are recorded in the income statements. Accordingly, the translation adjustment losses on non-functional currencies were $205 million in FY24 YTD, compared to translation adjustment gains of $33 million in FY23 YTD. The translation adjustment losses in FY24 YTD were primarily driven by the appreciation of certain non-functional currencies against the U.S. dollar when compared to depreciation of these currencies against the U.S. dollar in FY23 YTD.

Section V: Risk Management

Risk Governance

IDA's risk management processes and practices continually evolve to reflect changes in activities in response to market, credit, product, operational, and other developments. The Board, particularly the Audit Committee members, periodically reviews trends in IDA's risk profiles and performance, and any major developments in risk management policies and controls.

Management believes that effective risk management is critical for IDA's overall operations. Accordingly, the risk management governance structure is designed to manage the principal risks IDA assumes in its activities.

Risk Oversight and Coverage

The Vice President and WBG Chief Risk Officer (CRO) oversees both financial and operational risks. These risks include (i) country credit risks in the core sovereign lending business, (ii) market and counterparty risks including liquidity risk, and (iii) operational risks relating to people, processes, and systems, or from external events.

The risk of IDA's operations not meeting the expected development outcomes (development outcome risks) in IDA's lending activities is monitored at the corporate level by Operations Policy and Country Services (OPCS). Where fraud and corruption risks may impact IDA-financed projects, OPCS, the Regions and Practice Groups, and the Integrity Vice Presidency jointly address such issues.

For a detailed discussion of the risk governance and risk oversight and coverage, see IDA's MD&A for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, Section IX: Risk Management.

Management of IDA's Risks

IDA assumes financial risks in order to achieve its development and strategic objectives. IDA's financial risk management framework is designed to enable and support the institution in achieving its goals in a financially sustainable manner. IDA manages credit, market, and operational risks in its financial activities, which include lending, borrowing, and investing. The primary financial risk to IDA is the country credit risk inherent in its loan and guarantee portfolio. IDA is also exposed to risks in its liquid asset and derivative portfolios, where the major risks are interest rate, exchange rate, commercial counterparty, and liquidity risks. IDA's operational risk management framework is based on a structured and uniform approach to identify, assess, and monitor key operational risks across business units.

Capital Adequacy

IDA uses a solvency-based capital adequacy model, which mandates that IDA hold capital for credit risk, market risk and operational risk covering all activities and assets on its books. The main measure of capital adequacy is the DSC, a non-GAAP measure, which is the capital available to support future commitments above the current portfolio. IDA is required, by the Board, to keep the DSC at levels greater than or equal to zero percent. The DSC is calculated as the amount by which Total Resources Available (TRA) exceed Total Resources Required (TRR), plus a Conservation Buffer (CB). The TRA consists of IDA's existing equity plus accumulated provision for loan losses and other exposures. The TRR is the minimum capital required to cover expected and unexpected losses, (under a stressed but still plausible downside scenario), in connection with all of IDA's currently existing operations and assets. Within the TRR, there is also a capital allowance to reflect losses that result from valuing IDA's concessional loan portfolio in present value terms using market interest rates. This allowance is calculated using a stressed interest rate to account for a potential future rise in market interest rates. In addition, TRR includes capital requirements to account for development grants which are approved but not yet expensed. It also takes into consideration the capital adequacy protection provided by long-term fixed rate borrowings against changes in market interest rates. The CB is equivalent to 10 percent of TRA.

As of December 31, 2023, the DSC was 20.5%, 3.6 percentage points lower compared with June 30, 2023 (24.1%). The decrease was mainly due to the increase in TRR. The increase in TRR was primarily due to higher capital requirements for the increase in total exposure and conditional development grants approved but not yet expensed (Table 12).

In addition to the DSC framework, IDA has policies in place to ensure alignment of its lending and borrowing activities. Included in these policies are asset coverage requirements, where management monitors asset and liquidity levels to ensure IDA's ability to satisfy all its borrowing and commitment obligations. See IDA's MD&A for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, Section IX: Risk Management.

Asset - Liability Management (ALM)

Since FY22, IDA's interim ALM policy allows, under specific criteria, funding fixed rate loans with long-term fixed rate market debt and CPLs (both reported at amortized cost), as part of IDA's interest rate risk management to align the interest rate and maturities of the debt with those of the loan portfolio. For more details, see Notes to the Condensed Quarterly Financial Statements for the period ended December 31, 2023, Note E: Borrowings.

Capital Value Protection Program

In FY20, as part of IDA's ALM policies, IDA executed pay fixed, receive floating forward-starting swaps with a notional of $15.0 billion under a Board-approved Capital Value Protection Program. The objective of the program is to partially reduce the sensitivity of IDA's capital adequacy model to changes in long-term interest rates and allow for more resources to be available for lending under the capital adequacy framework. For more details, see Notes to the Condensed Quarterly Financial Statements for the period ended December 31, 2023, Note F: Derivative Instruments.

Management of Credit and Market Risks

Credit Risk

IDA faces two types of credit risk: country credit risk and counterparty credit risk. Country credit risk is the risk of loss due to a country not meeting its contractual obligations, and counterparty credit risk is the risk of loss attributable to a counterparty not honoring its contractual obligations. IDA is exposed to commercial as well as noncommercial counterparty credit risk.

Country Credit Risk

IDA's lending management framework encompasses the long-standing PBA mechanism and allocation framework agreed at each replenishment, complemented by additional considerations required when accessing debt markets to ensure adherence to risk management (capital adequacy) requirements.

IDA regularly assesses the country credit risk of all its borrowers. IDA produces credit risk ratings for all its borrowing countries, which reflect country economic, financial, and political circumstances, and also considers environmental, social and governance (ESG) risk factors. Based on these risk ratings, to manage overall portfolio risk, the allocation outcomes of the PBA and other mechanisms are reviewed to ensure that they are compatible with the Deployable Strategic Capital Framework and Single Borrower Limit (SBL).

For FY24, the SBL has been set at $46 billion (25% of $185.8 billion of equity as of June 30, 2023), a marginal increase compared to $45 billion for FY23. Currently, the maximum country exposure levels compatible with IDA's overall capital adequacy target are lower than the SBL for all IDA borrowing countries. As a consequence, the SBL is currently not a constraining factor.

As of December 31, 2023, the ten countries with the highest exposures accounted for 63% of IDA's total exposure (Figure 8). Monitoring these exposures relative to the SBL requires consideration of the repayment profiles of existing loans, as well as disbursement profiles and projected new loans and guarantees.

Expected Losses, Overdue Payments, and Non-Performing Loans

When a borrower fails to make payments on any principal, interest, or other charges due to IDA, IDA may suspend disbursements immediately on all loans and grants to that borrower. IDA's current practice is to exercise this option using a graduated approach. These practices also apply to member countries eligible to borrow from both IDA and IBRD, and whose payments on IBRD loans may become overdue. It is IDA's practice not to reschedule service charges, interest or principal payments on its loans or participate in debt rescheduling agreements with respect to its loans. As of December 31, 2023, there was one IDA borrowing country in the accrual portfolio with overdue payments beyond 90 days.

As an exception to the practices set forth for treatment of overdue payments, IDA has provided financing to countries with overdue payments in specific situations. For further details, refer to IDA's MD&A for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, Section IX: Risk Management.

Effective February 2, 2024, all loans made to Niger were placed in nonaccrual status. The aggregate principal outstanding on these loans as of December 31, 2023 was $2,461 million, of which $16 million was overdue. Loan income for the period ended December 31, 2023 was reduced by $12 million representing the reversal of unpaid interest and other charges accrued on loans outstanding. The impact of this event has been included in evaluating the provision for losses on loans and other exposures as of December 31, 2023. The accumulated provision for losses on loans and other exposures to Niger as of December 31, 2023 was $351 million.

Accumulated Provision for Losses on Loans and Other Exposures

As of December 31, 2023, IDA had $198.6 billion of loans outstanding, of which loans in nonaccrual status represent 0.4%. IDA's total provision for losses on loans and other exposures was $6.1 billion, which represents a provisioning rate of 2.2% of the underlying exposures as of December 31, 2023 ($5.5 billion as of June 30, 2023, 2.0% of the underlying exposure). See Notes to the Condensed Quarterly Financial Statements for the period ended December 31, 2023, Note D – Loans and Other Exposures.

On December 13, 2023, Somalia reached the Completion Point under the HIPC Debt initiative. As a result, on January 1, 2024, loans eligible for relief under MDRI totaling $94 million were written off.

Commercial Counterparty Credit Risk Exposure

Commercial counterparty credit risk is the risk that counterparties fail to meet their payment obligations under the terms of the contract or other financial instruments. Effective management of counterparty credit risk is vital to the success of IDA's funding, investment, and asset/liability management activities. The monitoring and management of these risks is continuous as the market environment evolves.

As a result of IDA's use of mark-to-market collateral arrangements for swap transactions, its residual commercial counterparty credit risk exposure is concentrated in the investment portfolio, in instruments issued by sovereign governments and non-sovereign holdings (including Agencies, Asset-backed securities, Corporates, and Time Deposits). Total commercial counterparty credit exposure, net of collateral held, was $33.1 billion as of December 31, 2023. As of December 31, 2023, 71% of IDA's investment portfolio is rated AA or above, reflecting IDA's continued preference for highly rated securities and counterparties across all categories of financial instruments (Table 13). The decrease in exposure rated AAA was primarily driven by a credit rating agency's downgrade of U.S Treasuries holdings during FY24 YTD.

For the contractual value, notional amounts and related credit risk exposure amounts by instrument, see Notes to the Condensed Quarterly Financial Statements for the period ended December 31, 2023, Note F: Derivative Instruments.

Market Risk

IDA is exposed to changes in interest and exchange rates and uses derivatives to manage its exposure to market risks. Derivatives are used to align the interest and currency composition of its assets (loan and investment trading portfolios) with that of its liabilities (borrowing portfolio) and equity, with the exception of the long-term fixed rate market debt that is used to fund fixed rate loans. The loan, investment and borrowing portfolios are largely maintained in SDR and its component currencies.

Interest Rate Risk

IDA is exposed to interest rate risk due to mismatches between its assets (loan and investment portfolios) and its liabilities (borrowing portfolio) both in terms of maturity and instrument type. Given IDA's lengthy disbursement profile, the duration of IDA's loans is relatively long (11 years). This long duration, combined with volatility in market interest rates, results in significant year-on-year variability in the fair value of loans. However, since the loan portfolio is not reported at fair value under U.S. GAAP, the impact of this variability on IDA's Balance Sheet is not fully evident. IDA's investment-trading portfolio (liquid asset portfolio) has a relatively low sensitivity to interest rates with a duration of five months as of December 31, 2023.

Under its integrated financing model, IDA employs the following strategies to manage interest rate risk:

- The capital adequacy policies factor in the sensitivity to interest rates.
- Matching interest rates between assets and related funding to minimize open interest rate positions.
- The funding risk related to the mismatch between the maturity profile of the debt funding and the related assets is monitored through duration measurements and adjustments to capital requirements to cover this risk.

Alternative Reference Rate

As of June 30, 2023, all the LIBOR rates ceased to be provided by any administrator or were no longer representative, in line with previous announcements by The Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), the regulator of LIBOR. In consideration of the regulatory guidance and in preparation for the global markets' transition away from LIBOR, IDA took the necessary steps to facilitate a smooth and orderly transition of its financial instruments to alternative reference rates. This transition started on January 1, 2022 and was completed as of December 31, 2023 for all applicable portfolios.

Exchange Rate Risk

Changes in exchange rates affect the capital adequacy of IDA when the currency of the equity supporting the loan portfolio and other assets is different from that of the risk exposure. Accordingly, the primary objective of IDA's currency risk management is to protect IDA's financial capacity from exchange rate movements, as measured by the capital adequacy framework. To achieve this, IDA's balance sheet is managed in multiple currencies: SDR and the currencies comprising the SDR basket. The exchange rate risk management methodology encompasses the hedging of currency risk arising from the various inflows and outflows inherent in IDA's business model.

IDA uses currency forward contracts to convert future inflows from members' receivables provided in national currencies into the five currencies of the SDR basket, thereby aligning the currency composition of member contributions with the net cash outflows relating to loans and grants, which are primarily denominated in the SDR.

The payable leg of the currency forward contracts economically hedging member equity contribution pledges is denominated in non-functional currencies. IDA pays the market counterparty in a non-SDR currency. Accordingly, (depreciation) appreciation of the non-SDR currencies against the U.S. dollar results in exchange rate gains or losses, which are reported in the Statements of Income. The translation adjustment on future inflows from members, even though they are not recorded in the balance sheet, is the economic offset to the translation adjustment on non-functional currencies of currency forward contracts.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk arises in the general funding of IDA's activities and in managing its financial position. It includes the risk of IDA being unable to fund its portfolio of assets at appropriate maturities and rates, and the risk of being unable to liquidate a position in a timely manner at a reasonable price.

IDA's aggregate liquid asset holdings are kept above a specified prudential minimum to safeguard against cash flow interruptions. The prudential minimum is equal to 80% of 24 months of projected net outflows. For FY24, the prudential minimum has been set at $24.7 billion. As of December 31, 2023, IDA's liquid assets were $31.7 billion, 128% of the FY24 prudential minimum.

IDA will hold liquidity above the prudential minimum to ensure sufficient liquidity under a wide range of shock scenarios as well as to give it flexibility in timing its borrowing transactions and to meet working capital needs.

Operational Risk

Operational risk is defined as the risk of financial loss, or damage to IDA's reputation resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people, and systems, or from external events.

IDA recognizes the importance of operational risk management activities, which are embedded in its financial operations. As part of its business activities, IDA is exposed to a range of operational risks including physical security and staff health and safety, data and cyber security, business continuity, and third party vendor risks. IDA's approach to identifying and managing operational risk includes a dedicated program for these risks and a robust process that includes identifying, assessing, and prioritizing operational risks, monitoring, and reporting relevant key risk indicators, aggregating, and analyzing internal and external events, and identifying emerging risks that may affect business units and developing risk response and mitigating actions.

NOTES TO THE CONDENSED QUARTERLY FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE A—SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING AND RELATED POLICIES

Basis of Preparation

These unaudited condensed quarterly financial statements and notes should be read in conjunction with the June 30, 2023 audited financial statements and notes included therein. The condensed comparative information that has been derived from the June 30, 2023 audited financial statements has not been audited. In the opinion of management, the condensed quarterly financial statements reflect all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of IDA's financial position and results of operations in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP).

Management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed quarterly financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting periods. Due to the inherent uncertainty involved in making those estimates, actual results could differ from those estimates. Areas in which significant estimates have been made include, but are not limited to, the provision for losses on loans and other exposures and valuation of certain financial instruments carried at fair value. The results of operations for the first six months of the current fiscal year are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year.

Certain reclassifications of the prior year's information have been made to conform with the current year's presentation.

The Executive Directors approved these financial statements for issuance on February 14, 2024, which was also the date through which IDA's management evaluated subsequent events.

Accounting and Reporting Developments

Evaluated Accounting Standards:

In March 2022, the FASB issued the ASU 2022-02, Troubled Debt Restructurings and Vintage Disclosures, which eliminates the accounting guidance on troubled debt restructurings for creditors and amends the guidance on "vintage disclosures" to require disclosure of current-period gross write-offs by year of origination. The ASU became effective for IDA from the quarter ended September 30, 2023. As a result of adoption of the ASU, IDA included additional vintage disclosure information in Note D - Loans and Other exposures.

Accounting Standards Under Evaluation:

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280): Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, which requires additional segment disclosures for public entities, including those with a single reportable segment, such as the significant segment expenses that are regularly provided to the chief operating decision maker (CODM), the title and position of the CODM, as well as an explanation of how the CODM uses the reported measure of segment profit or loss. All existing annual disclosures about segment profit or loss must be provided on an interim basis in addition to disclosure of significant segment expenses. For IDA, the ASU will be effective for the annual period ending June 30, 2025 (annual statements of fiscal year 2025). IDA is currently evaluating the impact of the ASU on its financial statements.

In October 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-06, Disclosure Improvements: Codification Amendments in Response to the SEC's Disclosure Update and Simplification Initiative. The new guidance is intended to align U.S. GAAP requirements with those of the SEC and to facilitate the application of U.S. GAAP for all entities. If by June 30, 2027, the SEC has not removed the related SEC requirement, the related ASU amendment will not become effective. IDA is currently evaluating the impact of the ASU on its financial statements.

The investment securities held by IDA are designated as either trading or non-trading. All securities are carried and reported at fair value, or at face value, which approximates fair value.

As of December 31, 2023, IDA's Investments were mainly comprised of government and agency obligations (67%) and time deposits (32%), with all of the instruments classified as either Level 1 or Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

As of December 31, 2023, IDA's non-trading investment portfolio (principal amount due on a debt security with IFC) was $219 million ($262 million—June 30, 2023). For details regarding this instrument, see Note G - Transactions with Affiliated Organizations.

Commercial Credit Risk

For the purposes of risk management, IDA is party to a variety of financial transactions, certain of which involve elements of credit risk. Credit risk exposure represents the maximum potential loss due to possible nonperformance by obligors and counterparties under the terms of the contracts. For all securities, IDA limits trading to a list of authorized dealers and counterparties. In addition, credit limits have been established for counterparties by type of instrument and maturity category.

Swap Agreements*: Credit risk is mitigated through a credit approval process, volume limits, monitoring procedures and the use of mark-to-market collateral arrangements. IDA may require collateral in the form of cash or other approved liquid securities from individual counterparties to mitigate its credit exposure.

IDA has entered into master derivative agreements, which contain legally enforceable close-out netting provisions. These agreements may further reduce the gross credit risk exposure related to the swaps. Credit risk with financial assets subject to a master derivatives arrangement is further reduced under these agreements to the extent that payments and receipts with the counterparty are netted at settlement. The reduction in exposure as a result of these netting provisions can vary due to the impact of changes in market conditions on existing and new transactions. The extent of the reduction in exposure may therefore change substantially within a short period of time following the balance sheet date. For more information on netting and offsetting provisions, see Note F—Derivative Instruments.

The following is a summary of the collateral received by IDA in relation to swap transactions.

Table C3: Collateral received

In millions of U.S. dollars

| | December 31, 2023 | June 30, 2023 |
|---|---|---|
| Collateral received | | |
| Cash | $ 628 | $ 439 |

| Collateral permitted to be repledged | $ 667 | $ 543 |
| Amount of collateral repledged | — | — |
| Amount of cash collateral invested | $ 414 | $ 349 |

a. No excess collateral was received as of December 31, 2023 (Nil – June 30, 2023).

Securities Lending: IDA may engage in securities lending and repurchases, against adequate collateral, as well as securities borrowing and reverse repurchases (resales) of government and agency obligations, and ABS. These transactions have been conducted under legally enforceable master netting arrangements, which allow IDA to reduce its gross credit exposure related to these transactions. IDA presents its securities lending and repurchases, as well as resales, on a gross basis on the Balance Sheets. As of December 31, 2023, and June 30, 2023, there were no amounts that could potentially be offset as a result of legally enforceable master netting arrangements.

Transfers of securities by IDA to counterparties are not accounted for as sales as the accounting criteria for the treatment as a sale have not been met. Counterparties are permitted to repledge these securities until the repurchase date.

Securities lending agreements and repurchase agreements expose IDA to several risks, including counterparty risk, reinvestment risk, and risk of a collateral gap (increase or decrease in the fair value of collateral pledged). IDA has procedures in place to ensure that trading activity and balances under these agreements are below predefined counterparty and maturity limits, and to actively monitor net counterparty exposure, after collateral, through daily mark-to-market. Whenever the collateral pledged by IDA related to its borrowings under securities lending agreements and repurchase agreements declines in value, the transaction is re-priced as appropriate by returning cash or pledging additional collateral.

The following is a summary of the carrying amount of the securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements, and the related liabilities:

Table C4: Amounts related to securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements

In millions of U.S. dollars

| | December 31, 2023 | June 30, 2023 | Financial Statement Presentation |
|---|---|---|---|
| Securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements | $ — | $ 217 | Included under Investments on the Condensed Balance Sheets |
| Liabilities relating to securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements | $ — | $ 221 | Included under Securities sold under repurchase agreements, securities lent under securities lending agreements, and payable for cash collateral received on the Condensed Balance Sheets |

As of December 31, 2023, there were no liabilities relating to securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements ($221 million—June 30, 2023) and there were no unsettled trades relating to repurchase or securities lending agreements (Nil—June 30, 2023). There were no replacement trades entered into in anticipation of maturing trades of a similar amount (Nil—June 30, 2023).

In the case of resale agreements, IDA receives collateral in the form of liquid securities and is permitted to repledge these securities. While these transactions are legally considered to be true purchases and sales, the securities received are not recorded on IDA's Condensed Balance Sheets as the accounting criteria for treatment as a sale have not been met. As of December 31, 2023, and June 30, 2023, there were no unsettled trades pertaining to securities purchased under resale agreements. As there were no securities purchased under resale agreements as of December 31, 2023, IDA did not receive any securities as collateral. As of June 30, 2023, IDA received securities with a fair value of $169 million, none of which had been transferred under repurchase or security lending agreements.

NOTE D—LOANS AND OTHER EXPOSURES

IDA's loans and other exposures are generally made to, or guaranteed by, member countries of IDA. Loans are carried at amortized cost. Other exposures include signed loan commitments, Deferred Drawdown Options (DDO), irrevocable commitments, grant advances, project preparation advances and guarantees. Based on IDA's internal credit quality indicators, the majority of the loans outstanding are in the Medium and High risk classes.

IDA excludes the interest and service charges receivable balance from the amortized cost basis and the related disclosures as permitted by U.S. GAAP. As of December 31, 2023, accrued interest income and service charges on loans of $691 million ($659 million—June 30, 2023) are presented in Other assets on the Condensed Balance Sheets.

As of December 31, 2023, 0.4% of IDA's loans were in nonaccrual status and related to three borrowers. The total accumulated provision for losses on loans in accrual status and nonaccrual status was 2% of total loans as of December 31, 2023.

Credit Quality of Sovereign Loans

Based on an evaluation of IDA's exposures, management has determined that IDA has one portfolio segment – Sovereign Exposures. IDA's loans constitute the majority of the Sovereign Exposures portfolio segment.

IDA's country risk ratings are an assessment of its borrowers' ability and willingness to repay IDA on time and in full. These ratings are internal credit quality indicators. Individual country risk ratings are derived on the basis of both quantitative and qualitative analyses. The components considered in the analysis can be grouped broadly into eight categories: political risks, external debt and liquidity, fiscal policy and public debt burden, balance of payments risks, economic structure and growth prospects, monetary and exchange rate policy, financial sector risks, and corporate sector debt and vulnerabilities. The analysis also takes into account Environmental, Social and Governance factors. For the purpose of analyzing their risk characteristics, these exposures are grouped into three classes in accordance with assigned borrower risk ratings, which relate to the likelihood of loss: Low, Medium and High risk classes, as well as exposures in nonaccrual status.

IDA's borrower country risk ratings are key determinants in the provision for loan losses. Country risk ratings of borrowers in accrual status are grouped in pools with similar credit ratings for the purpose of the calculation of the expected credit losses. Exposure for certain countries in accrual status may be individually assessed on the basis that they do not share common risk characteristics with an existing pool of exposures. All exposures for countries in nonaccrual status are individually assessed. Country risk ratings are determined in review meetings that take place several times a year. All countries are reviewed at least once a year, or more frequently if circumstances warrant, to determine the appropriate ratings.

An assessment was also performed to determine whether a qualitative adjustment was needed on the loan loss provision as of December 31, 2023, including consideration of global and macroeconomic events. Management concluded that a qualitative adjustment beyond the regular application of IDA's loan loss provision framework was not warranted.

IDA considers loans to be past due when a borrower fails to make payment on any principal, interest or other charges due to IDA on the dates provided in the contractual loan agreement.

The following tables provide an aging analysis of loans outstanding:

Accumulated Provision for Losses on Loans and Other Exposures

Management determines the appropriate level of the accumulated provisions for losses, which reflects the expected losses inherent in IDA's exposures. Management reassesses the adequacy of accumulated provision on a quarterly basis and adjustments to the accumulated provision are recorded as a charge to or release of provision in the Statements of Income.

The provision for HIPC Debt Initiative and MDRI is based on a quantitative and qualitative analyses of various factors, including estimates of Decision Point and Completion Point dates. These factors are reviewed periodically as part of the reassessment of the adequacy of the accumulated provision for loan losses. Accumulated provisions are reduced as qualifying debt service becomes due and is forgiven under the HIPC Debt Initiative.

When the country reaches HIPC Completion Point, it becomes eligible for MDRI debt relief which is characterized by the write-off of eligible loans. This write-off occurs at the beginning of the quarterly period following the date on which the country reaches Completion Point. MDRI provision is reduced by the amount of the eligible loans written off.

Changes to the accumulated provision for losses on loans and other exposures are summarized below:

The accumulated provision for losses on loan and other exposures as of December 31, 2023, was $6,100 million, compared to $5,511 million as of June 30, 2023. The increase was primarily due to the provision expense for loans to Niger for the six months ended December 31, 2023 as all loans made to Niger were placed into nonaccrual status effective February 2, 2024, and the increase in exposure.

Loans to be written off under MDRI

During the six months ended December 31, 2023 and the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, no loans eligible for debt relief under the MDRI were written off.

On December 13, 2023, Somalia reached the Completion Point under HIPC debt relief initiative. As a result, on January 1, 2024, loans eligible for relief under MDRI totaling $94 million were written off.

Overdue Amounts

As of December 31, 2023, principal of $10 million and charges of $4 million from one borrower country in accrual status was overdue by more than three months.

The following tables provide a summary of selected financial information for loans in nonaccrual status:

a. Loan loss provisions are determined after taking into account accumulated provision for debt relief.

During the six months ended December 31, 2023, and 2022, no new loans were placed into nonaccrual status.

During the three and six months ended December 31, 2023, service charge revenue not recognized as a result of loans being in nonaccrual status was $1 million and $3 million, respectively ($2 million and $3 million – three and six months ended December 31, 2022, respectively).

During the three and six months ended December 31, 2023, service charge revenue recognized on loans in nonaccrual status upon receipt of payment was nil and less than $1 million, respectively (nil and less than $1 million – three and six months ended December 31, 2022, respectively).

Subsequent Event

Effective February 2, 2024, all loans made to Niger were placed in nonaccrual status. The aggregate principal outstanding on these loans as of December 31, 2023 was $2,461 million, of which $16 million was overdue. Loan income for the period ended December 31, 2023 was reduced by $12 million representing the reversal of unpaid interest and other charges accrued on loans outstanding. The impact of this event has been included in evaluating the provision for losses on loans and other exposures as of December 31, 2023. The accumulated provision for losses on loans and other exposures to Niger as of December 31, 2023 was $351 million.

Guarantees Provided

Guarantees of $2,802 million were outstanding as of December 31, 2023 ($2,558 million—June 30, 2023). This amount includes $1,104 million relating to the PSW ($795 million—June 30, 2023). The outstanding guarantees represents the maximum potential undiscounted future payments that IDA could be required to make under these guarantees, and are not included on the Condensed Balance Sheets. The guarantees issued by IDA have original maturities ranging between 3 and 22 years and expire in decreasing amounts through 2043.

As of December 31, 2023, liabilities related to IDA's obligations under guarantees provided include the obligation to stand ready of $139 million ($135 million—June 30, 2023), and the accumulated provision for guarantee losses of $307 million ($177 million—June 30, 2023). These have been included in Other liabilities on the Condensed Balance Sheets.

During the six months ended December 31, 2023, less than $0.5 million of IDA-PSW Blended Finance Facility guarantees under the Small Loan Guarantee Program pursuant to the risk-sharing agreement between IDA and IFC were called (less than $0.5 million — six months ended December 31, 2022).

Concentration Risk

Loan revenue comprises service charges, interest and commitment charges, net of waivers. For the six months ended December 31, 2023, loan revenue of $169 million and $135 million from two countries, both in the South Asia region, were each in excess of ten percent of total loan revenue.

The following table presents IDA's loans outstanding and associated loan revenue by geographic region:

NOTE E—BORROWINGS

IDA's borrowings comprise market borrowings (carried at amortized cost or fair value) and concessional partner loans made by IDA members (carried at amortized cost).

IDA uses derivative contracts to manage the currency risk and the interest rate risk in the market borrowings carried at fair value. For details regarding the derivatives used, see Note F—Derivative Instruments.

As of December 31, 2023, and June 30, 2023, the instruments in IDA's borrowing portfolio measured at fair value were classified as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy. Through June 30, 2021, all market debt was carried at fair value. Starting July 1, 2021, IDA only elects fair value for market debt designated to fund liquidity or variable rate loans. Market debt not meeting this fair value election criteria are reported at amortized cost.

A summary of IDA's borrowings are as follows (for details on principal due upon maturity, see Note J—Fair Value Disclosures):

NOTE F—DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

IDA uses derivative instruments in its investment, loan and borrowing portfolios, for asset/liability management purposes, and to assist clients in managing risks.

The following table summarizes IDA's use of derivatives in its various financial portfolios.

Table F1: Use of derivatives in various financial portfolios

| Portfolio | Derivative instruments used | Purpose/Risk being managed |
|---|---|---|
| Risk management purposes: | | |
| Investments—Trading | Interest rate swaps, currency forward contracts, currency swaps, options, swaptions, futures contracts, and TBA securities | Manage currency and interest rate risks |

| Borrowings | Interest rate swaps and currency swaps | Manage currency and interest rate risks |
| Other purposes: | | |
| Client operations | Interest rate swaps and currency swaps | Assist clients in managing risks |

The derivatives in the related tables of Note F are presented on a net basis by instrument. A reconciliation to the Condensed Balance Sheet presentation is shown in table F2.

Offsetting assets and liabilities

IDA enters into International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. (ISDA) master netting agreements with substantially all of its derivative counterparties. These legally enforceable master netting agreements give IDA the right to liquidate securities held as collateral and to offset receivables and payables with the same counterparty, in the event of default by the counterparty.

The following tables summarize the gross and net derivative positions by instrument type. Instruments that are in a net asset position are included in the Derivative Assets columns and instruments that are in a net liability position are included in the Derivative Liabilities columns. The effects of the master netting agreements are applied on an aggregate basis to the total derivative asset and liability positions and are presented net of any cash collateral received on the Condensed Balance Sheets. The net derivative asset positions in the tables below have been further reduced by any securities received as collateral to disclose IDA's net exposure on its derivative asset positions.

The volume of derivative contracts is measured using the U.S. dollar equivalent notional balance. The notional balance represents the face value or reference value on which the calculations of payments on the derivative instrument are determined. As of December 31, 2023, the notional amounts of IDA's derivative contracts outstanding were as follows: interest rate swaps $34,491 million ($30,815 million as of June 30, 2023) and currency swaps $28,014 million ($24,670 million as of June 30, 2023). There were $558 million of long positions and $75 million of short positions pertaining to other derivatives as of December 31, 2023 (Nil as of June 30, 2023).

Collateral: IDA is not required to post collateral under its derivative agreements as long as it maintains a triple-A credit rating. The aggregate fair value of all derivative instruments with credit-risk related contingent features that are in a liability position as of December 31, 2023, is $1,063 million ($1,217 million —June 30, 2023). As of December 31, 2023, IDA was not required to post any collateral in accordance with the relevant agreements.

If the credit-risk related contingent features underlying these agreements were triggered to the extent that IDA would be required to post collateral as of December 31, 2023, the amount of collateral that would need to be posted would be $122 million ($349 million—June 30, 2023). Subsequent triggers of contingent features would require posting of additional collateral, up to a maximum of $1,063 million as of December 31, 2023 ($1,217 million—June 30, 2023).

The majority of the instruments in IDA's investment portfolio are held for trading purposes. Within the trading portfolio, IDA holds highly rated fixed income instruments as well as derivatives. The trading portfolio is primarily held to ensure the availability of funds to meet future cash flow requirements and for liquidity management purposes.

b. Includes other receivable of $4 million related to unsettled Local Currency Facility trades that is included in Other assets on the Condensed Balance Sheets.

The receivables from (payables to) these affiliated organizations are reported on the Condensed Balance Sheets as follows:

| Receivable for Investments | Investments |

Administrative Services

The payable to IBRD represents IDA's share of joint administrative expenses including contributions to special programs, net of other revenue jointly earned. The allocation of expenses is based upon an agreed cost sharing formula, and amounts are settled quarterly.

For the three and six months ended December 31, 2023, IDA's share of joint administrative expenses and contributions to special programs totaled $443 million and $871 million, respectively ($442 million and $863 million—three and six months ended December 31, 2022, respectively).

Other revenue

Includes IDA's share of other revenue jointly earned with IBRD during the three and six months ended December 31, 2023, totaling $91 million and $151 million, respectively ($72 million and $128 million—three and six months ended December 31, 2022, respectively).

The amount of fee revenue associated with services provided to other affiliated organizations is included in Other revenue on the Condensed Statements of Income, as follows:

Table G3: Fee revenue from affiliated organizations

In millions of U.S dollars

| | Three Months Ended December 31, | | Six Months Ended December 31, | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 2023 | 2022 | 2023 | 2022 |
| Fees charged to IFC | $ 23 | $ 24 | $ 45 | $ 44 |
| Fees charged to MIGA | 1 | 2 | 3 | 3 |

Pension and Other Post-Retirement Benefits: IBRD, along with IFC and Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), sponsors a defined benefit Staff Retirement Plan and Trust, a Retired Staff Benefits Plan and Trust and a Post-Employment Benefits Plan (PEBP) that cover substantially all of their staff members.

While IDA is not a participating entity to these benefit plans, IDA shares in the costs and reimburses IBRD for its proportionate share of any contributions made to these plans by IBRD based on an agreed cost sharing ratio.

During the three and six months ended December 31, 2023, IDA's share of IBRD's benefit costs relating to all three plans totaled $25 million and $50 million, respectively ($41 million and $82 million—three and six months ended December 31, 2022, respectively).

The cost of any potential future liability arising from these plans would be shared by IBRD and IDA using the applicable cost sharing ratio.

The receivable from IBRD represents IDA's net share of prepaid costs for pension and other postretirement benefit plans and PEBP assets. These will be realized over the lives of the plan participants.

Derivative transactions*: IDA enters into currency forward contracts with IBRD acting as the intermediary with the market, primarily to convert donors' expected contributions in national currencies into the five currencies of the Special Drawing Rights (SDR) basket.

Investments – Non-trading

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2015, IDA purchased a debt security issued by IFC for a principal amount of $1,179 million, amortizing over a period of 25 years. The investment carries a fixed interest rate of 1.84% and has a weighted average maturity of 4 years. As of December 31, 2023, the principal amount due on the debt security was $219 million ($262 million—June 30, 2023), and it had a fair value of $205 million ($244 million—June 30, 2023). The investment is reported under Investments in the Condensed Balance Sheets. During the three and six months ended December 31, 2023, IDA recognized interest income of $1 million and $2 million, respectively from this investment ($1 million and $3 million— three and six months ended December 31, 2022, respectively).

Private Sector Window (PSW)

The PSW was created under the Eighteenth Replenishment of IDA's Resources (IDA18) to mobilize private sector investment in IDA-only countries and IDA-eligible Fragile and Conflict-affected Situations. The PSW continued under IDA's Twentieth Replenishment of Resources (IDA20), which commenced on July 1, 2022, with an initial allocation of $2.5 billion. Under the fee arrangement for the PSW, IDA receives fee income for transactions executed under this window and reimburses IFC and MIGA for the related costs incurred in administering these transactions. As of December 31, 2023, the PSW exposures were $1,374 million, and the related accumulated provision was $293 million.

As of December 31, 2023, the cumulative amount of conditional grants approved but not yet expensed since all conditions have not been met, was $29,184 million. Of this amount, conditional grant advances disbursed but not yet expensed, of $4,127 million as of December 31, 2023 ($3,887 million – June 30, 2023), are included in Other assets on the Condensed Balance Sheets.

NOTE I—ACCUMULATED OTHER COMPREHENSIVE LOSS

Comprehensive income consists of net income (loss) and other gains or losses affecting equity that, under U.S. GAAP, are excluded from net income (loss). For IDA, other comprehensive income (loss) is comprised of currency translation adjustments on functional currencies and DVA on fair value option elected liabilities. These items are presented in the Condensed Statements of Comprehensive Income.

The following table presents the changes in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss (AOCL) balances:

Table I1: Changes in AOCL

NOTE J— FAIR VALUE DISCLOSURES

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

As of December 31, 2023, and June 30, 2023, IDA had no financial assets or liabilities measured at fair value on a non–recurring basis.

Due from Banks

The carrying amount of unrestricted and restricted cash is considered a reasonable estimate of the fair value of these positions.

Loans and Loan commitments

There were no loans carried at fair value as of December 31, 2023, and June 30, 2023. IDA's loans and loan commitments would be classified as Level 3 within the fair value hierarchy.

Summarized below are the techniques applied in determining the fair values of IDA's financial instruments.

Investment securities

Where available, quoted market prices are used to determine the fair value of trading securities. For instruments for which market quotations are not available, fair values are determined using model-based valuation techniques, whether internally-generated or vendor-supplied, that include the standard discounted cash flow method using observable market inputs such as yield curves, credit spreads, and constant prepayment spreads. Where applicable, unobservable inputs such as conditional prepayment rates, probability of default, and loss severity are used.

Unless quoted prices are available, time deposits are reported at face value, which approximates fair value, as they are short term in nature.

Securities purchased under resale agreements, securities sold under repurchase agreements, and securities lent under securities lending agreements

These securities are of a short-term nature and are reported at face value, which approximates fair value.

Borrowings

The fair value of IDA's borrowings carried at fair value is calculated using a discounted cash flow method which relies on observable market inputs such as yield curves, foreign exchange rates, basis spreads and funding spreads.

As of December 31, 2023, and June 30, 2023, the fair value of borrowings measured at amortized cost would be calculated using the same methodology as described above for borrowings at fair value and classified as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

Derivative instruments

Derivative contracts include currency forward contracts, TBA securities, swaptions, options and futures contracts, currency swaps and interest rate swaps. Where available, quoted market prices are used to determine the fair value of trading securities. Examples include options and futures contracts.

For instruments for which market quotations are not available, fair values are determined using model-based valuation techniques, whether internally-generated or vendor-supplied, that include the standard discounted cash flow method using observable market inputs such as yield curves, foreign exchange rates, credit spreads, basis spreads, funding spreads and constant prepayment spreads. Where applicable, unobservable inputs such as constant prepayment rates, probability of default, and loss severity are used.

Valuation adjustments on fair value option elected liabilities

The DVA on fair value option elected liabilities (market borrowings carried at fair value) is measured by revaluing each liability to determine the changes in fair value of that liability arising from changes in IDA's cost of funding applicable to the relevant reference rates.

The table below presents IDA's estimates of fair value of its financial assets and liabilities along with their respective carrying amounts.

NOTE K—CONTINGENCIES

From time to time, IDA may be named as a defendant or co-defendant in legal actions on different grounds in various jurisdictions. The outcome of any existing legal action, in which IDA has been named as a defendant or co-defendant, as of and for the six months ended December 31, 2023, is not expected to have a material adverse effect on IDA's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REVIEW REPORT

President and Board of Executive Directors
International Development Association:

Results of Review of Interim Financial Information

We have reviewed the accompanying condensed balance sheet of the International Development Association ("IDA") as of December 31, 2023, and the related condensed statements of income, and comprehensive income for the three-month and six-month periods ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the condensed statements of changes in accumulated deficit and cash flows for the six-month periods ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "interim financial information").

Based on our reviews, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying interim financial information for it to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Review Results

We conducted our reviews in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS) applicable to reviews of interim financial information. A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. A review of interim financial information is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS, the objective of which is an expression of an opinion regarding the financial information as a whole, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. We are required to be independent of IDA and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our review. We believe that the results of the review procedures provide a reasonable basis for our conclusion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Interim Financial Information

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the interim financial information in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of interim financial information that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Report on Condensed Balance Sheet as of June 30, 2023

We have previously audited, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the balance sheet as of June 30, 2023, and the related statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in accumulated deficit, and cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein); and we expressed an unmodified audit opinion on those audited financial statements in our report dated August 4, 2023.

In our opinion, the accompanying condensed balance sheet of IDA as of June 30, 2023, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.
