Dear Charles:

We were saddened to learn of Mrs. McCaskill's death last weekend.

It is very difficult to lose a loved one and we sincerely hope that in this time of loss you know that our thoughts are with you.

All of us at The World Bank extend to you our deepest sympathy.

Sincerely,

A.W. Clausen

Dear Bill:

Your reception at Hot Springs has become a tradition--certainly your guests can attest to that. Last week's get together was very enjoyable as always. The occasion contributes greatly to a better rapport between business leaders and "the Media!"

Dear Ed:

We all missed you! And we hope you are feeling better by this time. Keith, George, Wendy, Peggy and I had a great time together--in fact we closed up the Grille Room that night. Many thanks for your hospitality and I hope that we get to see one another at the Grove in July--if not sooner.

Peggy joins me in sending our very best wishes to Hannah.

Dear Jack:

Peggy and I had a delightful time with you and Sallie and your other guests last Friday evening. There were a lot of our good friends in your group, some of whom we hadn't seen in a while, and it was good to be able to have a relaxing visit with them. Of course, it is always a treat for us to be with the Corettes and you are wonderful hosts.

Thanks for thinking of us and I hope it won't be quite so long before we see one another again.

Dear George:

For a few days now I have made some attempts to get you on the phone--without success. Perhaps you and Marian have already begun your tour of the U.S. In any event, I hope this note or its message catches up with you somewhere along the line.

Peggy and I really are looking forward to having you both here in June. You are welcome to stay with us--after all there have been a few changes in the house since you first saw it! We've been in touch with Vance and Jean and they are free to join us for dinner on Sunday, June 8, if that date suits you.

I assume from your note that you will be arriving either Saturday or Sunday. Can we pick you up at the airport? Do you need a car for transportation? Let's hear from you when you can. For quick reference, our home number is 202-966-6262 and the office is 202-477-2002.

Dear Bob:

What great news greeted me this morning on the front page of the Washington Post! I was really pleased to read that you are to be nominated by President Reagan to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. Congratulations!

With your background and obvious expertise in economics and finance, I know you will be a definite asset to the Board and will add much to its deliberations and decisions. Your established track record at Bank of America will stand you in good stead as you assume even greater and more important responsibilities at the Fed.

Every good wish to you, Bob, for continued success.

Thank you for your letter inviting me to join a financial panel at the Oil Daily and International Herald Tribune's International Conference on Energy, scheduled for October 23-24, 1986 in London.

Regretfully, I must decline. I am retiring from The World Bank on June 30 and my plans for the future are not yet settled. Until such time as they are, I am reluctant to make any commitments. I do hope you understand and I extend my best wishes to you for a successful Conference.

Dear Mr. Conable:

Enclosed with this letter is a set of briefing materials for you on the World Bank and the International Finance Corporation; these are the papers that Mr. Clausen's letter of March 20 to you mentioned. Eight of them have been put together by the various "complexes" represented at the Managing Committee; in addition, the Operations Evaluation Department and the Staff Association have submitted briefs. This package is intended to provide you with background for the series of meetings you will be holding with staff in the May 27-June 30 period.

In addition, I am sending you three other items: a brochure on the World Bank/IFC, which you may have seen and which gives a general and non-confidential introduction to the institution; the Monthly Financial Report for March 1986, which summarizes the status of a number of key facets of our work as of March 31, 1986; and the text of Mr. Clausen's speech at the 1985 Annual Meetings in Seoul, which reviews some of the institutions' current preoccupations.

You might find it useful to start out with the first part of the Personnel and Administration briefing book, which gives an overview of the structure and management of the Bank.

May 13, 1986

I hope that the schedule I suggested for you in my letter of May 8th is acceptable. I would like to propose two further items, if I may:

- Mr. Clausen wishes to invite you to lunch with him at the Metropolitan Club on May 27th (at 1:00 p.m.),
- Mr. and Mrs. Ryrie would like to invite you and Mrs. Conable to dinner at their home on June 6 (at 8:00 p.m.; invitation will follow).

Do let me know if these or any of the other dates proposed in my letter are difficult for you.

With best wishes.

Yours sincerely,

Nigel Roberts

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

THE WORLD BANK

Washington, D.C. 20431

May 12, 1986

The Honorable
James A. Baker, III
Secretary of the Treasury
Washington, D.C. 20220

Dear Mr. Secretary:

We are writing with regard to a matter of deep concern to our respective Institutions--the increasingly urgent need for immigration relief for the children and surviving spouses of long-time international civil servants in the employ of The World Bank and the International Monetary Fund and for certain retirees from our Institutions. Legislation that would go a long way towards resolving these problems is included in the omnibus immigration bill that has passed the Senate and is now pending in the House. We earnestly request that the Administration reiterate its support for such relief and encourage its prompt enactment by the Congress.

As you are aware, our Institutions draw their respective staffs from member nations around the world. Under the present law, staff members of international organizations and family members residing in their households, come to the United States on non-immigrant, "G-IV" visas. Such visas are available only while the staff member remains an employee of an international organization or while the family member continues to reside in the staff member's household. When the staff member retires (or if he or she dies in office), the family must leave the United States promptly, unless it is able to obtain another visa status. Grown children who leave the staff member's household also lose their G-IV visa eligibility.

These provisions have created serious personal hardships for many employees and family members. Our respective Institutions have sought to attract employees who are willing to commit substantial portions of their careers to international civil service. Children who grow up in the United States, receive their education here and are "Americanized" in every way may under current law, be required to leave the United States when their parent is no longer employed by the international organization or when they leave the parent's household. Widows or widowers and retired staff members who have lived in the United States throughout their most productive years may be forced to move elsewhere, regardless of their economic self-sufficiency and the dislocations involved. The resulting personal hardships and uncertainties have in turn seriously affected staff morale and the abilities of the international organizations to attract and keep high caliber mid-career employees.

The legislation now pending in Congress would help alleviate these problems. The World Bank and the International Monetary Fund have supported such legislative relief since 1977, as we said in our letter of January 25, 1982, to Secretary Regan. Similar provisions were included in the omnibus immigration legislation that was considered in the two prior Congresses. G-IV provisions have been supported in the past by both the current and former Administrations, including the Department of the Treasury and the Department of State.

Given this background, we hope that the Department will support the inclusion of GIV provisions like those that have passed the Senate in any immigration bill that may be considered.

Sincerely,

J. de Larosiere

Dear Sonny:

Thank you for your letter of April 10, raising the issue of apparent differences between our organisations on how countries can best attract investment by the international oil industry. These issues arose during work on Bank-financed exploration promotion projects within which a number of alternative ways of seeking to satisfy government and industry objectives were being explored. In these discussions, it is normal to expect differences of opinion since, as you well know, sometimes conflicting parameters have to be taken into account, and the conditions under which such agreements have to be negotiated are changing rapidly.

The main concern of the Bank in assisting developing countries is to help them design approaches and agreements which are pragmatic and adapted to their specific environment. To achieve this we are making a constant effort to understand better the motivations and strategies of the international oil companies, and what they see as major impediments to greater private sector investment in the less developed countries so that we can provide an efficient service to our borrowers. Over the past year, for example, we have had direct contacts with more than 65 companies world wide and we should be glad to share with you and your staff the benefits we have gained from these consultations.

I agree with you that a meeting to compare experience and clarify approaches would be useful and I look forward to the Managing Director of CFTC getting in touch with Philippe Bourcier, Acting Director of the Energy Department, to make the necessary arrangements.

Warm regards.

Sincerely

Dear Mr. Guffey:

I'm sorry it has taken me so long to get back to you concerning the invitation to address your August symposium. It is indeed an honor to be asked and my delay was caused only by the uncertainty of my plans after I retire from The World Bank on June 30.

However, as my secretary mentioned to Mr. Hakkio, I am pleased to accept, and Mrs. Clausen and I are looking forward to joining you and your colleagues. No doubt we will be in touch concerning further arrangements as time goes on.

Dear Jorge:

It was good to talk to you the other day, and I'm sorry that I wasn't able to get back to you personally.

Once again, I appreciate the invitation to the inauguration of the CARIDAD smelting plant, but as I mentioned, my schedule just will not permit me to be away from Washington on June 1. I did talk to my colleagues in our Mexico region about CARIDAD, and they informed me that neither the Bank nor IFC has any involvement in the project. While we, of course, have a great interest in the economic progress of Mexico, because we do not have a direct relationship with the project, and because it is an especially busy time here at the Bank, we find we are just not in a position to send a representative.

However, we do send our good wishes for the inauguration and for the successful operation of the plant.

Warm regards.

Dear Mr. Belford:

Thank you very much for your letter of April 7, which I received recently on my return from an overseas visit.

Like yourselves, I am very interested in seeing the public achieve a wider awareness of international affairs, and believe as you do in the power of television to influence opinion in a constructive way. The purposes of the Better World Society are therefore something I can support without hesitation.

I am, however, fully committed during the next few weeks -- as we are approaching not only the end of the Bank's fiscal year, but also the end of my Presidency. Equally, my personal plans after I step down on July 1 are still uncertain, and I do not therefore feel it would be appropriate for me to become actively involved in any new ventures at this point. I do, however, appreciate your letter, and I wish the Better World Society all the best in its endeavors.

Sincerely,

A. W. Clausen

Mr. Clausen:

We had a call, on May 5, from the Prime Minister of Israel's office, indicating that "Mr. Peres was willing to meet with you on June 2 during your upcoming visit to Israel; would you also consent to address a conference on Economic Development for Peace taking place on June 1-4?"

On further enquiry it was clear that this curious request derived from our efforts to fix up a meeting between you and Peres (in connection with the West Bank Bank initiative) when he was here in Washington recently. Someone had taken it that you wanted to visit Peres in Israel. How they then ascribed dates to this "visit" is a mystery, though.

I thanked Mr. Peres' Advisor for the invitation, but explained that you would not be making any further trips overseas during your Presidency. Mr. Peres' Advisor also mentioned that Peres will be in Miami on June 17 and 18--would you be able to meet him there? I checked with Bill Ryrie on this and Bill would not recommend you do this. Nevertheless, I was asked to inform you that Mr. Peres would be delighted to have you visit Israel after your term here.

Dear Gerhard:

Just a short note to thank you for the time you spent with us in Bonn during our recent visit there. Not only was it good to have your company, but it was also helpful to have you with me on my calls on the government.

As I mentioned in my note to Juergen Warnke, I am of the opinion that we are in agreement on the key issues confronting the developing countries and The World Bank. However the subject of MIGA membership is still outstanding and we hope that Germany will join before too much longer. We count on your favorable intervention with your authorities to help bring this about.

Again, Gerhard, my thanks and appreciation for all your assistance in preparing our program for Bonn and for your many kindnesses to us while we were there.

Warm regards.

Dear Jacques:

It was good of you to join us in Hungary for what I thought was an interesting and worthwhile visit.

I was quite pleased by the open exchanges we had with members of government and the National Bank of Hungary. It was helpful to talk about our mutual concerns and our hosts were cooperative and articulate in our discussions. Thanks again, Jacques, for your participation and for your personal briefings as well.

And in a more personal vein, may I say how much your friendship, support and counsel have meant to me over these past five years. I have enjoyed our association and hope that we still will continue to cross paths in the future.

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Fawzi:

We were very pleased that you could join us in Saudi Arabia for our brief visit there. Given the short time, we made some valuable contacts. I appreciated your participation in our discussions as well as the briefings you provided.

If I may, let me add a personal note of thanks for your helpfulness and support these past few years. I have enjoyed our association and hope that our paths will continue to cross in the future.

Warm regards.

Dear Jed:

Just a word of thanks for all your assistance during our Moroccan adventure. Our schedule was well planned and made the best use of our time. The exchanges we had with the government representatives and the King were worthwhile and, hopefully, will show some positive results down the line.

I appreciated having the written briefings which you and your staff prepared so well and also those you gave me "on the spot." It was good having you along and Peggy and I both thank you for your kindnesses.

Dear Botafogo:

It was nice having you in Bonn and Paris with us. The program in Bonn was especially good and I was quite pleased with the exchanges we had with the government there. I hope that positive results will follow.

We've been receiving very fine feedback on the Symposium which is testimony to the outstanding job done by the External Relations Staff both here and abroad in planning and carrying out the details.

On a personal note, let me say how much I have enjoyed our association these past few years. It has been a pleasure working with you and I have greatly appreciated your support and friendship as well.

Dear Willi:

My desk was piled high when I returned from our trip and I think at last I can see the top! Hence the delay in dropping you this note to say thanks very much for accompanying Peggy and me on the visits to Hungary, Saudi Arabia and Morocco. We enjoyed Rosemarie's company too. You both are good travel companions.

It was a satisfying trip for me (and I hope for you as well). The program arranged by EMENA was very good and our contacts, calls etc. were, in my opinion, very profitable. I trust our messages got across and perhaps we even earned some "Brownie points" along the way.

I am very mindful, Willi, that this was our last trip together. On a personal note, I want you to know how much I have appreciated all your support and cooperation over these years as well as your companionship on our travels. You are a fine representative of The World Bank as evidenced by the high regard in which you are held by the governments of the many countries you have worked with.

Warm regards.

Dear Sheikh Mohamad:

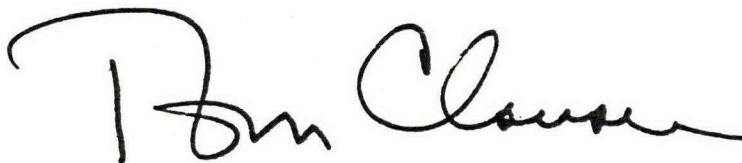

Many thanks for the warm hospitality and many courtesies you extended to me and my associates during our recent visit to Riyadh.

As in the past, the visit provided us with an excellent opportunity to exchange views with you and your colleagues on important issues facing the economic and social development in the poor countries of the world.

Let me reiterate that the progress made by the Saudi Fund in the past years in the field of development assistance has indeed been very impressive. We are particularly pleased with the excellent working relationship between the Saudi Fund and the World Bank and we look forward to continuing and further enhancing this cooperation.

Warm regards.

Dear Sheikh Mohammad:

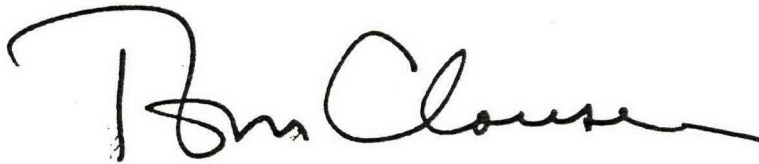

Thank you for the warm hospitality and kind courtesies you extended to me and my associates during our recent visit to Riyadh. The lunch you hosted for us was most enjoyable but, most of all, I am extremely grateful to you for dedicating a shield in memory of our close cooperation. I will always treasure that.

It was indeed a great pleasure to meet with you again and to exchange views on matters of mutual interest. I have always found these consultations to be most useful in coordinating our efforts and enhancing the effectiveness of our cooperation. I will personally miss this interchange but am confident that the Bank's Senior Management will continue on this mutually productive path.

On a personal note, may I say how much I have appreciated your friendship over the years. In spite of my career change, I hope that friendship will continue and that we will have occasions to meet again in the future. Meantime, I wish you continued good health, happiness and success in your very important role in your Ministry.

Dear Maurice:

Just a note to express my appreciation for the arrangements you made for my visits in Bonn and Paris and for the many kindnesses you extended to both Peggy and me.

I was quite pleased with the results of our talks with the government in Bonn and I hope that positive results will show in the not-too-distant future. It is regrettable that we couldn't do more in Paris but having the chance to visit with Michel Camdessus and his other guests was an evening well spent.

The reports from our Bonn Symposium have been excellent which speaks well for the Bank and especially for those who organized and executed it.

Again my thanks for all you did vis-a-vis our most recent trip and also for your helpfulness these past five years. I've enjoyed our association and hope that our paths will cross from time to time in the future.

May 5, 1986

Dear Bruce:

I've been rather swamped since returning from a trip overseas last week and this note has been delayed more than I would have liked.

I've taken another look at my schedule for June. Some time back, I had indicated that Peggy and I would join the Board for dinner and the meeting following on June 25 at Annapolis. However, it falls during my last few days at the Bank so it just doesn't seem realistic now. I hope you will understand my constraints at this time.

However, be assured the dates for the November 1986 meeting as well as those for '87 and '88 are noted on my calendar. Brookings is an important association for me and although my agenda after July 1 is not yet established, I will do all I can to work anything else around your dates.

I'm looking forward to our visit on Wednesday, Bruce.

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Colin:

Peggy and I were deeply saddened when we learned of Margaret's recent death. It is difficult to lose a loved one and no matter how well we think we are prepared for that moment, we are not.

Your note said that Margaret had suffered a long battle with cancer. We did not know. The words you used to describe her fight epitomize the characteristics Margaret possessed in her lifetime-- a joyous spirit, courage and grace. That's the way we all will continue to remember her.

You and the family have our deepest sympathy as well as our thoughts and prayers.

Sincerely,

Mr. Colin Cameron

Dear Mont:

Your letter was awaiting my return to the Bank from a trip overseas. To say the very least, I am distressed by its news! From my vantage point, it's difficult for me to assess the reason for management's decision. At the same time, I know that for you it probably is one of the toughest situations you have faced in your working career.

Of one thing I'm sure, Mont! You have the "guts" not to become discouraged and the resilience to bounce back and look forward to new challenges. You must not think of this as a failure on your part. Like a lot of us, you are a victim of circumstances and of changing times.

Not having been in the corporate world for the last five years, I am really not in a position at the moment to know where the opportunities are. But you have a lot of friends in the financial communities of the Bay Area and in the international arena. My suggestion would be to knock on a few doors. Remember, Mont, there are opportunities outside the Bay Area as well, so don't limit yourself. If I can be helpful with a letter or a phone call, let me know. And, of course, if I run across something interesting, I'll mention your name. I'll be happy to do whatever I can.

My summer plans are still vague but I will be in California for the Grove in July. If you can let me know a contact number, perhaps we can meet for lunch and have a visit.

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

Mr. Mont E. McMillen, Jr.

P.S.: Congratulations on your recent marriage. Both of you have our very best wishes.

Dear Mr. Minister:

Thank you for your letter of April 22 and for your kind comments. I, too, am sorry that we did not have the chance to exchange views over luncheon during my Bonn visit.

As you have indicated, the future will be a challenging one for the Bank as we work with all parties toward a satisfactory resolution of international debt issues. I know that we can count on your continued support in the times ahead.

On a more personal note, let me say that it has been a great pleasure working with you and your colleagues during my term here. Your friendship and wise counsel have meant a great deal and I hope that I will have the opportunity to see you from time to time in the future.

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Frank:

Thank you for sending me the telex transcript of Mike Wilson's letter. I've taken the liberty of passing a copy on to Ernie Stern and Attila Karaosmanoglu and will be replying to the Minister in due course.

Warm regards.

Dear Miss Silver:

Thank you for your recent letter suggesting the services of your company for a possible speaking engagement in the fall of 1986 through the spring of 1987.

My plans for the future are not settled and until they are, I believe it best that I not make any commitments. I appreciate you and your client inviting me in any event.

Sincerely,

Miss Phyllis Silver

Dear Gus:

Many thanks for sending me World Resources 1986, which arrived while I was out of the country for a few weeks. I haven't had a chance to do more than leaf through it, but I'm pleased that the Bank was able to make some useful contributions, and I'm looking forward to reading it more thoroughly.

This volume is undoubtedly a valuable addition to the rather limited body of knowledge about the world's resources, and you and the International Institute for Environment and Development can be justifiably proud of having produced it.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hobson:

Thank you for your letter of April 23, and for keeping me informed of progress in putting together the GLOBAL LINKS package. I'm gratified to see that the initiative has gained the positive responses from PBS, USAID and INTELSAT that you report. As Frank Vogl will have told you, I and a number of my senior colleagues in the Bank took the opportunity to preview the first two completed films, and were impressed by their quality and relevance to current development problems.

As to securing a sponsor to fund promotion of the series, I will certainly be glad to do what I can to assist with this, and we are indeed currently working on an approach which we hope will generate the required interest. Frank will keep in touch with you on this as things evolve.

Sincerely,

A. W. Clausen

Dear Vice Minister Li:

We have just returned from Europe and the Middle East to find your beautiful gift awaiting us.

The cloisonne vases are very elegant and certainly are representative of the excellent craftsmanship of the Chinese people. Mrs. Clausen and I are extremely pleased to have them but we especially appreciate the thought which prompted your gift.

It has been my great pleasure to know and work with you and Minister Wang. All of us at The World Bank appreciate your strong support of our objectives and look forward to its continuing in the years ahead.

I, too, look forward to another opportunity to visit China and, at such time, I will certainly be in touch with you or Minister Wang.

Again, our thanks for your thoughtfulness.

Warm regards.

Dear Sheikh Hamad,

A brief note to express my thanks and appreciation for the warm hospitality you extended to my associates and myself during our recent visit to Riyadh. Our exchange of views was, as usual, extremely useful, and we look forward to future opportunities where the Bank and SAMA would continue this long lasting and productive dialogue.

Warm regards,

Sincerely,

Dear Juergen:

It was good seeing you recently in Bonn. Peggy and I greatly appreciated your warm hospitality and the program you organized for us, including the delightful visit to Schloss Eltz. Peggy was especially pleased that Elke and she could spend some time together and she enjoyed the opportunity immensely.

It was kind of you to accompany me on the calls to President Von Weizacker and Chancellor Kohl. Our candid exchanges were beneficial and I came away from the meetings with the opinion that we are in agreement on the key issues confronting the developing countries and The World Bank. Your support for replenishment of IDA 8 at the $12 billion level will be critical for rallying the U.S. to the position of the other donors and for convincing Japan to honor its share.

You should know that we now have 21 countries that have signed the MIGA convention. In addition, Bolivia, Colombia, Egypt, France, Indonesia, Ivory Coast, Sri Lanka and Switzerland have also indicated that they will be signing in the coming weeks. Internal discussions in the United States and Japan on the question of MIGA membership are also well advanced. I do hope that the Federal Republic of Germany will find it to its advantage to sign as well. GCI is further down the road but your support here is essential also.

The luncheons you hosted, Juergen, were most enjoyable occasions. I appreciated the chance to visit with Dr. Tietmeyer again and to discuss with him the topics of interest to the Bank which will be on the Summit agenda. Ernie Stern will be in Bonn the week of May 20 and will be glad to pursue our discussions.

From reports I have been receiving, The World Bank Symposium was quite successful. Naturally we all are pleased. My colleagues and I thank you for your participation and the excellent overview you presented in your speech.

Let me reiterate how much we at The World Bank value and appreciate your strong support. It has made our task less difficult and we are tremendously grateful for that.

His Excellency
Juergen Warnke

On a more personal note, Juergen, you should know that your friendship and wise counsel have meant a great deal over the years. In spite of my career change, I do hope that this friendship will continue and that we will have occasion to meet from time to time in the future.

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Senator Boschwitz:

Thank you for your letter concerning Belay Bakonyi and his interest in employment with The World Bank. As you pointed out, he does indeed have an excellent international background and would undoubtedly be an asset to any internationally-oriented institution.

I'll be pleased to pass his resume on to my colleagues in our Personnel office for their consideration. But I should mention at the same time that openings at the more senior levels are limited here and, in addition, we generally try to promote from within. However, we will certainly review his candidacy vis-a-vis our current needs and will get in touch with him directly.

Thanks again for writing.

Sincerely,

A. W. Clausen

Judy:

I spoke with Bill Stanton this morning and he asked me to send you the letters we receive from the Hill on the Bank's poverty-oriented lending program. I attach the four letters that we have received so far. As I explained to Bill, I am concerned that we do not completely ignore the other three letters while we work with Hall on a Bank response to the requests. Bennett Johnston's letter is dated April 11, and the other two April 22. I understand that a plan is afoot to fix a meeting between Mr. Clausen and Mr. Stern and Tony Hall in the week of May 12. I presume that some acknowledgment should be given to the other three correspondents in the meantime, unless Hall is informing them of what is being planned. I'd be grateful if you'd keep in touch on this.
