

Introduction:

The World Bank offers Internship opportunities to highly motivated individuals. This allows interns exposure to the mission and the work of the World Bank and an opportunity to learn while gaining practical experience. The Bank benefits through individuals bringing new perspectives, innovative ideas, and latest research experience.

The Latin America and Caribbean Region (LCR) Inclusive Internship Program 2021 is a key initiative for the LCR Vice-presidential Unit within the World Bank's larger commitment to combat racism and provide career opportunities for people from all backgrounds and ethnicities. The Program is targeted to highly motivated and qualified individuals from the LAC region, with a special focus on Afro descendants, Indigenous People and other minorities.

Eligibility Criteria:

To be eligible for the LCR Inclusive Internship Program 2021, candidates must be nationals from any country in the Latin America and Caribbean Region. They must be a graduate-level student at an accredited university or a recent graduate of a graduate-level program (Master's or PhD; up to 2 years after graduation) and be 28 years old or younger. Candidates should have at least 1-2 years of relevant work experience (research, paid or unpaid internships and volunteer work).

Excellent verbal and written communication skills in English are required. Knowledge of other languages such as Spanish, Portuguese or French may be required if stipulated in the terms of reference below.

Terms of Reference:

LCRIP 06 – Climate Specialist (Environment, Natural Resources and Blue Economy)

The World Bank's Environment, Natural Resources and Blue Economy Global Practice (ENB) provides expertise, technical assistance and financing to help low- and middle-income countries manage land, sea and freshwater natural resources in a sustainable way to help create jobs, improve livelihoods, enhance ecosystem services, decrease pollution and increase resilience to climate change.

Duties and accountabilities:

The Environment, Natural Resource and the Blue Economy team in Latin America and Caribbean Region (LCR) is seeking to recruit an intern to help support, curate, and develop knowledge and expertise related to our work on the Regional Climate Change Action Plan and the development of simple country climate diagnostics. Duties will include and support the production and dissemination of such diagnostics within country teams. The intern will be expected to consolidate and summarize inputs on climate change impacts and related policies related to adaptation, mitigation, and green growth in several LAC countries and develop high quality country documents for consultations. The intern will be expected to do ad hoc research and analysis as the need arises.

For this group of new interns, in addition to the substantive work program, one key collective delivery will be to improve the impact and effectiveness of the internship program itself through mutual collaboration among the interns, together with communications, human resources, and the LCR VPU Front Office. This expected outcome will be the comprehensive preparation for the launch of a second cohort, incl. the review and/or creation of our approach to attract, recruit, select, onboard and guide the right talent for this program that focuses on inclusion and underrepresented minorities. This is an opportunity for our first cohort of interns to make a tangible impact on the World Bank's journey towards further inclusion.

Qualifications

- The successful candidate will be graduate-degree student or a recent graduate or in climate economics or climate policy related fields
- Strong research and analytic skills
- Strong writing skills
- Ability to work independently and follow through on tasks.
- Ability to work in English is critical, Spanish or Portuguese language skills are highly desirable
- Computer skills, proven ability to use standard and customized technology packages (Internet, Word, Outlook, PowerPoint, Excel STC.).
- Ability to juggle multiple tasks within tight deadlines.
- Good diplomatic, organizational, and oral presentation skills, with ability to work in a multicultural environment with an inter-disciplinary team
- Location of the post is flexible (remote work possible) for a duration of 3 months.

Application and Selection Process:

The World Bank will accept applications through email until 11:59pm EST 25 June 2021. Applications will be posted on an internal database accessible by all departments of the World Bank LCR Region. Individual hiring departments will access this internal database to further short-list based on their business needs. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted for interviews. Hiring decisions by the hiring department(s) expect to be concluded between mid-July-August 2021.
